PRINCIPALS DID NOT CHANGE GRADUATION PLAN, SAYS DYKES

Declares It Would Have Made Him and Colleagues "Ridiculous in Eyes of the People to Flop So Suddenly."

MASS MEETING CAUSED CHANGE, HE BELIEVES

"Somebody Got Scared and Wanted to Take to Cover," Says Boys' High School Principal Sunday.

Stating emphatically that he did not sign the paper presented by Supervisor Charles S. Culver, rescinding the order of the board of education upholding the plan of having a combined graduation exercises for the four high schools of Atlanta, and further declaring that the other high school principals did not affix their signatures to the paper, Professor W. F. Dykes, principal of Boys' High, yesterday said that the conditions had not been changed in any particular since the adoption of the order on Friday, and asserts that it would have made him and his colleagues "ridiculous in the eyes of the people to flop so suddenly."

The only change in the situation, indicates the high school principal, was that a big mass meeting had been announced, in which it was feared that "some matters would be uncovered that might make it very embarrassing for certain school authorities."

"Somebody Got Scared."

"Somebody simply got scared," said Professor Dykes, "and wanted to take to cover."

The interview given out by Professor W. F. Dykes Sunday, in which these statements were made, comes as a most interesting sequel to the announcement made Saturday night by Major R. J. Guinn, chairman of the board, that the order for a merged graduation night for the four high schools had been rescinded in view of the protests against it, the desire of the principals for separate exercises and in consideration of the fact that the question of discipline had been definitely adjusted by the signed statement of the graduating class from the Boys' High school, disclaiming any intention to defy authority.

Professor Dykes declares that there has been no change in the situation with the exception of the announcement that was made Saturday concerning the big mass meeting to be held Monday evening, which he intimates threw a scare into some one.

The Boys' High principal also alleges that the Saturday meeting, in which the rescinding order was laid before the principals, was adjourned until Sunday afternoon, with the promise of Mr. Culver that the paper would not be given out for publication until the committee had a chance to pass upon it.

Professor Dykes' Statement.

Asked about the graduation plan change, Professor Dykes said:

"No, the principals did not sign the paper presented by Mr. Culver.

"They refused to become parties to any such scheme. It would make them appear ridiculous in the eyes of the people to flop so suddenly.

"The situation had not changed one particle from Friday afternoon, when the committee made its report, until Saturday afternoon, when Mr. Culver called them together, except that announcement had been made that a mass meeting had been called for Monday night, and it was feared that some matters would be uncovered that might make it very embarrassing for certain school authorities.

"The wishes of the people were no more paramount Saturday than they were Friday.

"Somebody simply got scared and wanted to take to cover.

"Nearly three hours was consumed in an effort to get the paper signed, but no signature was forthcoming, and no excuse could be agreed on for 'backing down.'

"It was claimed in Mr. Culver's article that the Boys' High school had made 'amend honorable' by an apology submitted the day before.

"I called attention to the fact that this apology was objected to the day before at the board meeting because it applied to the principal of the Boys' High school only, and did not include Mr. Culver.

"The 'amend' had only become 'honorable' after the report came out about the mass meeting!

No Change in Situation.

"As to the restoration of discipline at the Boys' High school, there could have been no change in the situation from Friday afternoon until Saturday afternoon, because school had not been in session during that time.

"I am sure that the members of the board who were called up on

Bible Saves Heart Of U. S. Boy Soldier From German Bullet

Young Wilson Says He Intends to Present the Bible to the United States.

With the American Army in France, May 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Many stories have been told since the beginning of the world war of lives being saved by Bibles, but the United States probably will have the distinction of being the first country to have actual possession of a bullet-punctured Bible, which saved the life of one of its sons, William R. Wilson, a 19-year-old soldier, of New Castle, Pa.

Young Wilson is alive today in a hospital in the rear of the American sector in Picardy, and rapidly recovering from a minor wound. A Bible and a small trench mirror, which he was accustomed to carry in his left breast pocket, deflected a German sharpshooter's bullet from his heart.

According to his friends, Wilson, who is an orphan, had been in the habit of reading the Bible daily. He was resting in the rear lines last Sunday with his Bible as his only comfort. He was ordered to the front line, where a sharpshooter's bullet felled him. Comrades who carried him off found that he was suffering only from a flesh wound in the breast, thanks to his Bible and the trench mirror through which the bullet passed. A second bullet struck him in the arm, but this wound is not serious.

Wilson says he is going to present the Bible to the United States as soon as he is discharged from the hospital.

FIRE OF HATE SPOUTS FROM GERMAN CANNON

Flemish Towns Are Being Shattered—Allied Guns Are Retaliating.

With the British Army in France, May 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—This was another of the days indicated by German prisoners as the date they understood had been set for the renewal of the German offensive. The lull still continues, however, and apart from a general increase in the fire of the hostile artillery, especially in the north, there is no change in the situation.

The allies have persisted in the assumption that any moment might bring an attack and have been carrying out counter operations religiously. Day and night their artillery has periodically deluged German concentration points with high explosives of all calibers, and the statements of prisoners indicate that this intense gunning is causing much anguish in the enemy ranks.

The correspondent spent last night in the Kemmel sector and saw an exhibition of British and French methods. From 10 o'clock onward the allied gunners were pounding the Germans all along the Flanders front and just before daybreak—the hour an attack might be expected to develop—they put down a tremendous barrage, which was maintained for some time before it gradually eased off to ordinary gun fire.

The German artillery has kept up its shelling of the back areas. Virtually all the Flemish towns within range are being subjected to a fire of hate. The Germans have devoted special attention to Mont Des Cats, where there is a Trappist monastery which every American who has visited this part of France will remember. The monks were forced to flee several weeks ago, and the magnificent buildings have been reduced to ruins.

The French troops in Flanders have undertaken their new and arduous duties with great spirit. The correspondent was talking today with a British officer engaged in liaison work with a French division in the line:

"I like the way the French are carrying on," said the officer. "They declare they are going to finish with the Boche and beat him if it takes the last French soldier to do it. The French officers and men are convinced that the allies will come out on top. Their morale is magnificent."

PITCHED BATTLE FOUGHT WITH DRAFT RESISTERS

Four Men Killed, Another Seriously Wounded and Woman Fatally Wounded.

Texarkana, Ark, May 26.—Word reached the sheriff's office here tonight that one deputy sheriff was killed, one seriously wounded and one woman fatally wounded, and three other men killed in a fight between a sheriff's posse and draft resisters in the mountains, near Hatfield, in Polk county. Further trouble is evidently expected, as the Polk county sheriff sent an urgent plea here for ammunition.

FIVE PERSONS DROWNED IN LAKE PONTCHARTRAIN

New Orleans, May 26.—Five persons, three young women and two young men, were drowned in Lake Pontchartrain late today when their rowboat capsized. Two other occupants were rescued. The drowned:

Miss Kate Mustachia, age 13.
Miss Florence Laporte, 24.
Miss Adele Kearney, 17.
Philip Loyacini, 17.
Frank Mustachia, 21.

The accident occurred about a mile from shore when the heavily loaded boat encountered rough water and was overturned. Fishermen who heard the screams of the victims rushed to their assistance, but before they could reach the scene five of the seven occupants of the little craft had disappeared. Only one body, that of Miss Mustachia, was recovered.

They were members of a picnic party spending the day on the lake front.

END TO BASEBALL URGED BY PASTOR

Rev. J. W. Ham Excoriates Loafers in Poolrooms and Says That Great National Game Should Close Gates During War.

Excoriating the practice of loafing in poolrooms of Atlanta, calling upon the chief of police to rigidly enforce the laws dealing with idling and vagrancy, and declaring that baseball, the great national game, should close for the period of the war, Rev. J. W. Ham preached a sensational sermon at the Baptist tabernacle last night. In part he said:

I took three hours off from my regular work last Saturday morning and made a personal investigation of the amount of loafing in the poolrooms of the city.

I soon found that three hours was not sufficient to make a complete survey. I covered only about one-third of this kind of loafing places.

To my amazement I found two hundred and forty-nine able-bodied white men during work hours engaged in shooting pool. I likewise found one hundred and sixty-two negroes, making a total of four hundred and eleven men.

1,233 Loafers in Atlanta.

Multiply this number by three, which is the minimum estimate for the remaining two-thirds of the poolrooms that I did not visit, and you have a total of twelve hundred and thirty-three loafers in Atlanta engaged in this non-productive form of amusement during work hours.

Every man who shoots pool during work hours is a friend of the kaiser, and an alien to the spirit and ideals of the American flag. I believe that the chief of police ought to round up everyone of these human parasites and put them on the rock pile.

It is a sure shot that they are either making their living by gambling or they are dependent upon somebody else to provide them with food and clothing. They are both a burden and a menace. A lot of these poolroom sharks have a string of "street-walkers" plying their disease-breeding and character-destroying business and the profits going to these pool sharks.

As long as our state law grants licenses to this character of enterprise I do not see how the poolrooms could be closed, but I do strongly insist that vigilance on the part of the police department, backed up by public sentiment, would clear these poolrooms of the undesirable characters.

We are at war, and every nerve and muscle of our nation must be energized and directed toward the overthrow of the monster of middle Europe, loafers and slackers must be run out of their dens and hiding places and made to fit in this great war machine that our government is now building.

Put End to Baseball.

President Wilson and General Crowder have issued proclamations calling upon everybody to contribute their labor and money upon the altar of democracy.

Professional baseball, the great American game that furnishes so much amusement and relaxation, should be discontinued during the period of the war. There is too much money and men and too much idleness tied up in the enterprise to warrant the game at present.

Folks that have never worked before have got to get on their job and become producers of some sort. The time is soon coming when a man will not be respected by society who is not hard at work in some line.

Come on, chief, and let's scatter these rats! They are a menace to Uncle Sam and are cancers on the body politic. They nee dto be told where to head in.

AUSTRIAN ROYAL TRAIN STONED BY BULGARIANS

Emperor Charles Not Popular With the Subjects of His Ally.

Geneva, May 26.—The train bearing the emperor and empress from Constantinople, where they had been on a brief visit, reached Vienna yesterday in a dilapidated condition. Advices from the Swiss frontier town of Buchs give additional details to the reports previously received here of the attacks on the Austrian royalties.

The train came by way of Sofia and was stoned by Bulgarian troops. Even some rifle shots were fired and several members of the royal entourage were injured by glass from broken windows. Not a cheer was heard when the Austrian royal couple passed through Bulgarian stations, there being only comparatively small military demonstrations.

AS COL. ROOSEVELT SHAKES WITH TAFT, SPECTATORS CHEER

Chicago, May 26.—Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft, former presidents, met tonight in a Chicago hotel and held their first extended conversation since the republican convention in 1912. It was at that convention held in Chicago that the progressive party was born and Colonel Roosevelt made its nominee after the republicans had nominated Mr. Taft.

The meeting occurred in the dining room. Colonel Roosevelt was at dinner when Mr. Taft entered and made his way to the colonel's table. The men gripped hands and smiled broadly while the other diners rose and cheered.

After the greeting, the former presidents sat down and engaged in animated conversation for half an hour. Neither the colonel nor Mr. Taft would divulge the topic of conversation.

"Mr. Taft heard I was here and immediately came to see me," said Colonel Roosevelt. "We had a very enjoyable half hour's talk and I am very happy to see him again."

Mr. Taft said:

"I heard the colonel was here before I saw him. I missed the opportunity of seeing him at the time of the dinner to Marshal Joffre in New York. I was very glad to see him this time."

DR. DUNBAR OGDEN TO LEAVE ATLANTA

Noted Atlanta Pastor Will Go to Second Presbyterian Church in Louisville and Will Get $5,500 Salary.

According to telegraphic advices received in Atlanta last night, Dr. Dunbar Ogden, for many years pastor of Central Presbyterian church, has accepted a call to the Second Presbyterian church in Louisville, Ky.

It is also stated in the Louisville dispatches that the committee from that church first selected Dr. Ogden as successor to Rev. John Vandermuelen, when the pulpit became vacant last July, but postponed extending the call until now on account of "unfinished work" in the Atlanta pastorate.

Dr. Ogden, it appears, will receive a salary of $5,500 per annum, an increase of $500 over the salary paid Rev. Mr. Vandermuelen.

The Louisville telegram is as follows:

"Louisville, Ky., May 27.—(Special.) Rev. Dr. Ogden H. Dunbar, of Atlanta, who has accepted a call to the Second Presbyterian church here to succeed the Rev. John Vandermuelen, who resigned last July to accept a call to Oak Park, Ill., will receive a salary of $5,500 a year, an increase of $500 a year over what Dr. Vandermuelen received.

"The committee that called Dr. Dunbar first learned of him through his writings, and upon inquiry, learned of his excellent work in Atlanta. They also were informed that his work there was unfinished at the time, and, consequently, waited until now to extend him the call. Several other ministers were considered, but Dr. Dunbar was selected over all.

"The church here has a membership of about 1,000, made up of some of the most representative citizens of Louisville."

WAR TO THE DEATH AGAINST SINN FEIN

Declared by John Dillon, Irish Leader Says Sinn Fein Policy Threatens Ruin for Ireland.

Baillieborough, Ireland, May 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—John Dillon, chairman of the Irish nationalists, speaking here today, declared war to the death on the Sinn Fein. The occasion for his speech was a meeting of delegates from East Cavan to decide whether the nationalist party ought to withdraw its candidate and permit the Sinn Feiner, Arthur Griffith, to be elected unopposed.

Mr. Dillon's speech bristled with references to America and appeals to Irishmen not to neglect American public opinion. He emphasized his denunciation of the Sinn Fein by quoting several phrases from his statement recently made to the Associated Press and added:

"Some English newspapers have quoted the interview I gave to the Associated Press of America as evidence that I have 'broken off' my alliance with the Cinn Fein. You cannot break off what has never existed.

"I am being denounced today by the Sinn Feiners as an imperialist, which I never was, and as an enemy of the true principles of Irish nationality. And I have repeatedly explained that, while I was in favor of the Mansion House conference for the sake of presenting a united front on the single question of conscription, I was so far from believing that there was any other possible, common platform with the Sinn Fein that I was more bitterly and more irreconcilably opposed to De Valera and Griffith than ever before in my life.

"I am today more convinced than ever that the Sinn Fein policy is calculated to rob Ireland of the sympathy of America and of all democratic people throughout the world."

AGREEMENT PEACE URGED BY DEVLIN.

Belfast, May 26.—Joseph Devlin, nationalist leader, does not accept the government's statement regarding the alleged pro-German conspiracy in Ireland as at all conclusive of the verity of the charges, he indicated in a speech at Dungannon today.

"I am afraid the government, in its confused and panic-stricken state of mind," he said, "has got German plots on the brain. Arrests have been made on a wholesale scale of Irishmen and Irish women on vague charges which the government is unable to prove in the only way in which charges can be proved, and that is by trying the per-

Allied Airmen Report Heavy Concentration, and It Seems Likely Early Attempt Will Be Made for Decisive Victory.

ALLIES STRENGTHENING THEIR BATTLE FRONT

And in This Work Americans Are Playing No Secondary Role — Gen. Pershing Reports Successful Raids by the Americans.

New York, May 26.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—Still another week has passed, and the Germans have not begun their expected new offensive against the allied forces in Flanders and Picardy. And there is nowhere any indication that it is the early intention of the enemy again to try to break the battle front and reach the channel ports.

It is not improbable, however, that the blow will be launched at any moment. Aviators winging their way in reconnaissances behind the German lines still report a continuation by the Germans of their work of bringing up fresh troops, guns and stores for what is believed everywhere will be their greatest attempt to win a decisive victory.

Meanwhile, the allies are ready.

Every hour is being utilized by them to strengthen strategic positions and every hour finds them the better prepared to withstand an enemy onslaught. The morale of the troops is of the highest and confidence reigns among the men of the unified command of General Foch that the enemy will not be able to carry out his program to the full, and that whatever ground he may gain will be dearly paid for.

AMERICANS PLAY NO SECONDARY ROLE.

On the work of strengthening the battle front the Americans are playing no secondary role. The steady stream of the khaki-clad lads from overseas to the fighting line has served greatly to reassure the British and French contingents that have heretofore so valiantly held their own against tremendous odds. Those of the Americans already in the trenches have given and are still giving a good accounting of themselves, harassing the Germans with their artillery and out-gaming them in combats in the open.

Even the Germans at home, previously adopting the tactics of sneering at the Americans, now are becoming aware of their strength and virility. No less an authority than the semi-official North German Gazette is remarking on the "maturing" American reinforcements behind the allied line and wondering "how the lightning-trained Yankees will hold their own against the German lads, who have had military training from their youth."

Nowhere along the battle front has there been fighting of any great moment. Several new raids have been carried out successfully against German positions by the Americans, British and French forces and some similar attempts by the Germans promptly put down. Heavy artillery duels have been in progress on various sectors between the Germans and the British and French. The shelling by the Germans of Field Marshal Haig's positions east and northeast of Amiens has been particularly heavy, gas projectiles being used in great numbers.

"SILENT" RAID BY AMERICANS.

The Americans in the Montdidier sector have carried out another of their "silent" raids, leaving their trenches without artillery support and overwhelming an enemy trench. Six Germans were killed and one soldier was made prisoner by the Americans, who returned to their own line. The British near Bucquoy in a similar adventure captured 14 Germans and two machine guns and in two other raids took 15 prisoners and a machine gun. In the Ailette river region the French also brought in captives.

There still is considerable aerial activity over and behind the battle line and numerous fights in the air occur daily.

In the Italian theater the Austrians have essayed several rather strong attacks against the Italians in the mountain region of the north, but everywhere have met with repulse. Along the lower Piave river and in the Tonale region there have been intensive artillery duels.

DOLLAR DELUGE EXPECTED TODAY

As Second Red Cross Drive Closes—$100,000,000 Fund Already Oversubscribed by $12,097,304, and Millions More to Come.

Washington, May 26.—With the American Red Cross second $100,000,000 war mercy fund already oversubscribed by $12,097,304, officials tonight were setting no limit to the outpouring of dollars on the closing day of the week's drive tomorrow. That the daily average of something more than $18,000,000 would be far exceeded they had no doubt.

On the face of returns at headquarters here tonight, eleven of the fourteen divisions had oversubscribed, with the gulf leading the home divisions in percentage, but the foreign topping them all. The three divisions which had not attained their quotas were expected to go over the top early tomorrow.

The returns by divisions follow:

DIVISION.	Returns.
New England	$ 6,457,000
Atlantic	36,223,531
Pennsylvania	9,612,750
Potomac	4,200,290
Southern	3,701,100
Lake	11,003,755
Central	12,032,000
Gulf	2,739,894
Northern	3,905,337
Southwestern	12,000,000
Mountain	2,135,241
Northwestern	2,574,723
Pacific	4,611,683
Foreign	900,000
Totals	$112,097,304

Greater New York lacks $1,339,656 of equalling its quota. Philadelphia, with an allotment of $4,500,000, has subscribed $10,231,000. Detroit has given $5,500,000, nearly four times its minimum. Pittsburg has attained only 56 per cent of its $4,000,000, while Chicago has turned in only 47 per cent of its $7,000,000. Boston is another of the larger cities behind in the campaign.

SPOILED MEAT SOLD TO AMERICAN TROOPS

Morris & Co. and Wilson & Co. Accused by Federal Trade Commission.

Washington, May 26.—Sale of spoiled meat and other food products to the army with the knowledge that the food was "unfit for human consumption," is charged in complaints issued today by the federal trade commission against Morris & Co., and Wilson & Co., two of the five great packing corporations.

It is alleged that thousands of pounds of unfit meat and chickens were sold to Camp Travis, Texas. Most of it was detected and condemned, but it is said, some of it may have been passed and consumed.

Details of the information upon which the action is based were withheld by the commission. The announcement and correspondence given out with it, however, show that the alleged offenses occurred last December and are the same upon which indictments were obtained in Texas by the department of justice after an investigation of reports by the food administration. The indictments were dropped because they were returned under section 4 of the food law, which carries no penalty.

Since both the food administration and the trade commission have continued their investigations. If the complaint now announced should be sustained, the commission could do no more than order the packers to "cease and desist" from the practices. Upon repetition, offenders may be haled into a federal court.

A further report to the food administration from E. A. Peden, federal administrator for Texas, is expected this week. Officials of the administration say they probably will find some penalty to fit the cases, even if only on the ground of food wastage.

Correspondence between Mr. Peden and R. W. Boyden, chief of the enforcement division of the food administration, shows that Mr. Peden reported his belief that the basic trouble in the case was the attempt of the packers to do business without proper facilities. As to the unfit chickens, it is charged they were prepared in unclean surroundings by bare-foot Mexicans in an unscreened room, and shipped partially cleaned.

VON HINDENBURG STRICKEN BY FEVER; CONDITION CRITICAL

Geneva, May 26.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, chief of the German general staff, is in a hospital at Strassburg, suffering from typhoid fever, according to reports from that city. The advices state that the report of Von Hindenburg's death is incorrect, but that his condition is critical.

Typhoid fever is said to be spreading rapidly in the German army.

Of late there have been various reports of the death of Field Marshal von Hindenburg. Some of these reports were given on the authority of German prisoners on the western front.

INCREASES IN PAY FOR 2,000,000 MEN ORDERED BY M'ADOO

Order Becomes Effective Next Saturday and Is Retroactive to Last January—Increases to Be Determined on Percentage Scale.

PRINCIPLE OF 8-HOUR DAY RECOGNIZED BY M'ADOO

But, Owing to War, Hours Are Not Actually Reduced — Negroes to Get Same Pay as Whites and Women to Be Paid Like Men for the Same Work.

Washington, May 26.—General pay increases for nearly 2,000,000 railroad employees were announced today by Director General McAdoo, effective next Saturday and retroactive to last January 1, carrying out substantially recommendations of the railroad wage commission. The aggregate of the increases probably probably will be more than $300,000,000 a year, half of which will be distributed within a few weeks as back pay in lump sums ranging from about $100 to nearly $200 each.

The director general departed from the wage commission's recommendations in the following particulars:

The principle of the basic eight-hour day is recognized, but owing to exigencies of the war situation, hours of employment are not actually reduced, and overtime is to be paid pro rata; future adjustments of pay are to be made on the basis of eight hours.

In addition to the ordinary scale of increase, day laborers employed mainly on track work, are to get at least 2½ cents an hour more than they received December 31.

A minimum of 55 cents an hour is established for the shop trades, including machinists, boiler makers and blacksmiths.

Women are to receive the same pay as men for the same work, and negroes are to get the same as white men for similar employment.

New Board on Rail Wages.

To work out a multitude of inequalities of pay among employees doing similar work in different localities and other injustices caused by varying rules of employment and condition of organization, the director general created a new board of railroad wages and working conditions consisting of three labor representatives and three railway executives which will conduct extensive investigations and recommend wage and other employment changes.

All increases now ordered will be determined according to a percentage scale based on pay received in December, 1915, and any increases which have been allowed within that time will be deducted. In many cases raises in pay in the last two and a half years are about equal to the increases now approved, and consequently these employees will get little or no more. To correct just such situations when injustices are apparent will be one of the principal duties of the new wage board, whose creation was suggested by the railroad wage commission. In no cases are wages to be reduced.

Men working on the monthly, daily, hourly, piece work and train mile basis will benefit by the new allowances, and members of the four leading railway brotherhoods whose pay was raised through operation of the Adamson act are to receive from 10 to 40 per cent additional, a smaller increase than they had asked of railroads shortly before the government took control.

Does Not Apply to Short Lines.

The wage order applies to all employees of the 164 roads now under federal management, but not to the so-called short lines unless they are retained by the government after July 1. It affects employees of terminal, union station and switching companies, lighters, ferries and tugs owned by railroads, but not employees of railroad boat lines on the lakes, rivers or coastwise traffic. Although Pullman cars now are under government operation, Pullman employees will not benefit unless the railroad administration decides eventually to retain management of the cars.

In announcing his decision, Mr. McAdoo appealed to railroad employees to forget dissensions and disappointments arising under private control, and to remember that the success of the war depends largely on their services.

To meet the expense of the wage increase, the biggest ever granted to any class of employees at one time, the railroad administration has discussed raising freight and passenger rates.

The percentages of wage increase range from 43 for men who received $46 a month in December, 1915, down to a small rate for those receiving just under $250, and no more pay is allowed men who made $250 or more in 1915 The actual conditions run up to $34.

With the exception of office messenger boys under 18, who are given smaller increases, all employees who received less than $46 a month are given a flat increase of $20, with the provision that laborers paid by the day shall get a minimum of 2½ cents an hour above the rate six months ago.

Table of Increases.

The table of increases, as announced, itemized for each dollar of wages received in December, 1915, may be summarized as follows:

Monthly rate in 1915.	Increase above 1915 pay.
$ 46 to $ 50	$20.21 to $21.50

To Figure the Increase.

To figure the increase he will get, each employee should determine the pay which his present position carried in December, 1915, for if he has been promoted or demoted, his new wage is based upon the 1915 pay of the position which he now holds. Increases which have accompanied promotions are not increases in the sense of the new schedule, since "the wage runs with the place," not with the man.

Back pay due under the retroactive increase will be sent to any man who has been dismissed from the railroad service since January 1, or who has entered the army or navy, but not to an employee who quit voluntarily.

An important principle contained in the director general's order is that reductions in hours since 1915 are not to be regarded as increases in pay. This means that employees of the four brotherhoods affected by the Adamson act are to receive additions on top of the increases developed by that act.

For instance, an engineer who made $4 a day working 10 hours in 1915, may have had his pay increased to $5 for the same number of hours under the Adamson act. But for the purposes of applying the new scale, the $5 is considered as $4 a day for eight hours, with $1 for two hours' overtime. Consequently the pay will be increased on the basis of $4 a day, and over-time will be paid at the same rate of increase.

On this principle, train employees, including members of the leading brotherhoods, will receive approximately the following proportionate increases over 1915 pay, or their equivalent when pay is based on miles operated: Passenger engineers, 11 per cent; passenger firemen and helpers, 28 per cent; passenger conductors, 18 per cent; passenger baggagemen, 33 per cent; freight firemen and helpers, 34 per cent; freight conductors, 20 per cent; freight brakemen and flagmen, 40 per cent. These men also must deduct increases granted since 1915.

Recognition of 8-Hour Basis.

The recognition of the eight-hour basis, though important as a principle, does not materially affect the scale of new wages granted. For instance, a man who in 1915 received $3 for a ten-hour day would now get $4.23 for ten hours, but this $4.23 would be considered as $3.88 for a day's work (eight hours) and 35 cents for two hours' overtime. When readjustments are made later, involving possibly extra rates of pay for overtime, the full effect of the new principle will become more apparent.

Mr. McAdoo explained that although the wage commission had not recommended adoption of this principle, he felt it just to do so both in view of the general movement toward recognition of shorter working day and more specifically because the government recognizes the principle in public works and contracts.

The principle of paying women the same as men for comparable work, and negroes the same as white men for the same service, the director general also explained, is in conformity with government policies in other lines of employment.

The negro rule will affect many roads in the south where negroes are employed largely as firemen, trainmen, switchmen, laborers and for other work. This rule will become effective June 1, but payment of back wages will not include increases resulting from the rule.

In addition to the rule regarding women's pay, Mr. McAdoo specified that "where women are employed, their working conditions must be healthful and fitted to their needs." He said all state or local laws relating to hours and conditions of employment must be observed carefully.

New Wage Board.

The new board of railroad wages and working conditions is composed of J. J. Dermody, vice president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers; G. H. Sines, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; A. O. Wharton, head of the railway employers' department of the American Federation of Labor; F. F. Gaines, superintendent of motive power of the Central of Georgia railway; L. E. Lindsey, maintenance of way engineer for the New York Central, and W. E. Morse, general manager of the Denver and Salt Lake railroad. The latter three have resigned their positions with railroads. The board will sit in Washington probably continuously.

Duty of New Board.

"It shall be the duty of the board," says the wage order, "to hear and investigate matters presented by railway employees or their representatives affecting inequalities as to wages and working conditions, whether as to individual employees or classes of labor; conditions arising from competition with employees in other industries; rules and working conditions for the several classes of employees, either for the country as a whole or for different parts of the country. The board shall hear and investigate other matters affecting wages and conditions of employment referred to it by the director general.

The board shall be solely an advisory body and shall submit its recommendations to the director general for his determination.

To Iron Our Inequalities.

This order contemplates a strong effort to iron our many inequalities now existing. The board will deal with organized and unorganized employees alike, and the railroad administration on its own initiative take up the claims of railway clerks and other unorganized men.

In the preamble to the wage order Mr. McAdoo said:

"No problem so vast and intricate as that of doing practical justice to the 2,000,000 railroad employees of the country can be regarded as completely settled and disposed of by one decision or order; therefore, the board of railroad wages and working conditions is hereby established."

Appealing for the enthusiastic support of officials and employees, Mr. McAdoo said:

"It is my earnest hope that railroad officials and railroad employees will realize that their relations under federal control are not based upon the old conditions of private management. Dissensions and disappointments should be forgotten and all should now remember that they are not only serving their country in the operation of the railroads, but that upon the character, quality and loyalty of that service depends in large measure our success in this war.

"It is an inspiring task—this task of putting upon a more just and equitable basis the wages and working conditions of loyal workers in railroad service—and I confidently expect the patriotic support and assistance of every railroad official and every railroad employee in performing that task with credit and with honor to their country."

Limitation of Earnings.

The only provision for limitation of earnings in the order is a rule that in individual cases where the new scale permits increases "greater than is appropriate or necessary, to those trainmen and enginemen who make abnormal amounts of mileage and who, therefore, make already abnormally higher monthly earnings," officials of each railroad may take up with committee of the men the question of limiting mileage made per month by employees paid on the mileage basis.

Special rates of pay are provided for office, messenger and other chore boys, and similar employees under 18 years, as follows: Twenty dollars increase per month where the pay in December, 1915, was from $30 to $45 a month; $15 increase where rates was $20 to $30 a month; $10 increase where the rate was less than $20 a month.

Creation of the new wage board will not affect the duties of the existing railway board of adjustment No. 1, having charge of disputes over interpretation of wage or employment rules affecting the four trainmen's brotherhoods, nor other adjustment boards to be created soon for other classes of labor. These adjustment boards are quasi-judicial bodies, passing on interpretations which involve wages only incidentally, while the new board of railroad wages will have much broader functions. All these labor boards will be under the supervision of W. S. Carter, director of the railroad administration's division of labor.

TROOPS AND CANNON MASSED BY GERMANS

tonight by the war department tells how an American patrol of an officer and twenty men in the Lorraine sector last night drove back and inflicted losses upon an enemy patrol armed with light machine guns and assisted by machine gunfire from the enemy lines.

The communique for Saturday, delayed in tranmission, says:

"Yesterday in Picardy our troops executed a successful silent raid and inflicted on the enemy a number of losses in killed and prisoners. There is nothing else of importance to report."

Following is today's statement:

"In the course of patrol encounters our troops drove back the enemey and inflicted a number of casualties. Last night in Lorraine one of our patrols consisting of an officer and twenty men gained contact with an enemy patrol of about equal strength which was supplied with light machine guns and assisted by machine gunfire from its own lines. In the fighting which ensued our patrol drove back the enemy, killing several of them."

GERMANS KILLED BY AMERICANS.

With the American Army in France, May 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—American forces in the Montdidier region carried out a silent raid upon enemy positions yesterday, killing six men and capturing one. Without the assistance of the artillery the Americans slipped into the enemy trenches and quickly accomplished their work.

GERMANS REPORT AMERICAN LOSSES.

Amsterdam, May 26.—"Heavy losses," were inflicted upon the Americans on the Picardy front in the repulse of strong American patrols yesterday west of Montdidier, it is claimed in a semi-official German report received today in a Berlin telegram.

The report in the course of a description of yesterday's military operations says:

"West of Montdidier strong American patrols advanced against our front. One American patrol was entirely cut up by our fire. The others were thrown back by counter attack. The Americans thereby suffered heavy losses."

MANY PRISONERS AND MACHINE GUNS TAKEN BY BRITISH

London, May 26.—Increased activity was developed last night by the German artillery in sectors east and northeast of Amiens, as well as on the westerly side of the Lys salient in Flanders, the war office reported today. British raiding parties took numerous prisoners and several machine guns in successful operations, both by day and at night. The text of the official statement reads:

"A party of our troops raided the enemy's trenches south of Buoyquoy in daylight yesterday and captured fourteen prisoners and two machine guns. During the night othe rsuccessful raids were carried out by us east of Hebuterne and south of Neuville-Vitasse, resulting in the capture of fifteen prisoners and a machine gun.

"Hostile raiding parties were repulsed last night in the neighborhood of Sailly-Le-Sec, Buoyuoy, Ablainzeville, Festubert and Merris.

"The enemy's artillery has shown somewhat increased activity, particularly in the Villers-Bretonneux and Dernacourt sectors, in the neighborhood of Buoquoy and between Nieppe wood and Meteren."

Field Marshal Haig's report tonight from British headquarters in France says:

"During the night a hostile raid was repulsed by the French troops in the sector north of Bailleul. Shelling, repeated last night in the Villers-Bretonneux sector, was heavy, consisting of gas shells. There was heavy gas shelling also this morning west of Hinges."

ARTILLERY DUEL ON FRENCH FRONT.

Paris, May 26.—An artillery duel of considerable intensity took place last night along the French front southeast of Amiens, in the region of Hangard wood and below the Avre, the war office announced today. The Germans attempted a raid on French posts in the Orvillers-Sorel sector, between Montdidier and Lassigny, but failed of their purpose, as they did in similar attempts in the Champagne and in the Vosges region. Prisoners were taken by the French during patrols in various sectors. The text of the official statement reads:

"Our own and the enemy's artillery developed great activity in the region of Hangard wood and south of Avre.

"A German thrust, preceded by a violent bombardment, upon French posts in the Orvillers-Sorel sector, was without result for the enemy. Other German attempts in the Champagne and in the Vosges region failed.

"French patrolling detachments brought in prisoners, notably in the region of the Ailette.

"There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

The war office announcement tonight says:

"There was no infantry action, but there was artillery activity at some points north and south of the Avre.

"Eastern Theater, May 25: West of Doiran and on the right bank of the Vardar our batteries shelled enemy artillery positions and works. There were artillery duels around Dobrupolie and raids by Serbian troops in the region of Vetrenik. West of Lake Ochrida the enemy bombarded our positions. He attempted without result an attack against our posts on the right bank of the Skumbi. Allied aviators dropped more than 1,300 kilos of explosives on enemy establishments. In the course of aerial engagements during the day two enemy machines were forced to land."

AMERICANS TAKEN, GERMANS CLAIM.

Berlin, May 26.—(Via London.)—The official communication from General headquarters tonight says:

"South of Nieuport canal and on both sides of Dixmude we captured 70 Belgians in small operations.

"The artillery fire, which continues moderate throughout the day, became livelier in some sectors of the battle fronts. After darkness set in there was a considerable increase in the firing at times in the Kemmel region, south of the Somme and between Moreuil and Montdidier.

"Near Bucquoy several British attacks failed. In other sectors also there was lively enemy reconnoitering activity.

"West of Montdidier, Americans in the Ailette region, French, and on the southern bank of the Aisne, northeast of Laneuville, British were taken prisoners."

HEAVY FIGHTING AT VARIOUS POINTS ON ITALIAN FRONT

Rome, May 26.—Intensive fighting, both by the artillery and by the infantry in local operations, occurred yesterday at several points along the Austro-Italian front, today's war office report shows. The gunfire was particularly strong in the Tonale area and along the lower Piave. The text of the statement reads:

"The artillery fighting, which was normal along nearly all the front, became particularly intense in the Tonale area and fairly lively on the lower Piave.

"On the southern slopes of Sasso Rosso, in the Brenta valley, attacks by hostile patrols, accompanied by violent machine gun and rifle fire and hand bombing, were repulsed by the fire of our advanced posts and batteries. At Greve di Papadopoli skirmishes between reconnoitering parties took place.

"Our own and allied airplanes, flying low, directed machine gun fire at and bombarded enemy troops, batteries and billets in the Asiago basin and along the Piave."

Insurance experts contend that a woman who is in good health at the age of 45 is likely to outlive a man of the same age, because she is apt to be more temperate and is less liable to accident.

Badly Wounded American Kills German Captor

Lieutenant Craddock, of Virginia, Leads Scouts in Thrilling Raid Into No Man's Land.

With the American Army in France, May 26.—(By Associated Press.)—An American reconnoitering party commanded by Lieutenant A. P. Craddock, of Lynchburg, Va., had a thrilling hand-to-hand encounter with Germans in No Man's Land in Picardy last night. In the face of a continuous fire from two machine guns they charged the enemy. Although Lieutenant Craddock and several of his men were seriously wounded, they continued fighting and drove off the Germans.

One of the Americans was shot in the head and body and lay on the ground stunned. When he came to he found a German holding him by the shoulder. He whipped out his pistol and killed the German.

Another American detachment during the course of the night penetrated enemy organizations in the Bois Allogne, attacked a German post and killed five Germans and took one prisoner. The prisoner told the same story as thousands of others who have been taken by the British and French—that he would give anything to see the war ended. He apparently knew nothing regarding future German movements.

Lynchburg, Va., May 26.—Lieutenant A. P. Craddock, Jr., who was in command of the reconnoitering party that captured two machine guns from the Germans during the hand-to-hand fighting on the Picardy front, and was seriously wounded, is the son of A. P. Craddock, Sr., a wealthy shoe manufacturer of this city.

Lieutenant Craddock enlisted in a local military company just prior to the trouble on the Mexican border. He spent eight months on the border and shortly after returning to his home here he entered the first officers' training camp at Fort Myer. He embarked for France on September 13, last, with the first contingent of American officers sent over to study.

AMERICAN "HORDES" WORRYING GERMANS

Amsterdam, May 26.—Regarding the American "hordes" training in the French camps, the semi-official North German Gazette, of Berlin, remarks:

"Fresh reinforcements are meanwhile maturing in our recruiting depots behind the front and we will wait and see whether the lightning-trained yankee will hold his own against the German lads who have had military training from their youth."

DR. PLATO DUNHAM PREACHES SERMON FOR BRENAU GIRLS

Gainesville, Ga., May 26.—(Special.) The commencement exercises of Brenau college conservatory began on Friday night with a play by the school of oratory, "Her Husband's Wife," which proved one of the best yet given by this school.

Yesterday the annual art exhibit was held from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., when many visitors viewed the various works of art on exhibit by members of the school. At 11 o'clock the meeting of the alumnae association was held, proving a very enjoyable occasion for all who attended. From 3 p. m. to 7 p. m. the exhibit of the department of home economics was held, and was an especially interesting one, showing the progress made by this great school in this department. The alumnae dinner, always an enjoyable affair, was held at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, followed by the annual reception. Following this, the Mu Phi Epsilon recital was given at 8:30 o'clock, and was largely attended.

The program for today included the baccalaureate sermon at 11 a. m. by Rev. Dr. Plato Dunham, a sacred concert at 4:30 in the afternoon, and vesper services by the Y. W. C. A. at 6:30 p. m.

The exercises mark the close of the most successful term in the history of the college, and many happy reunions have attended the occasion.

MRS. A. J. HOUSER DIES AT HOUSTON CO. HOME

Fort Valley, Ga., May 26.—(Special.) Mrs. Adnes Houser, wife of A. J. Houser, a wealthy citizen living a few miles east of Fort Valley, died at her home this afternoon. She was about 60 years old and a member of the Methodist church, beloved by all. She had been married about 35 years. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Misses Allie and Lizzie, and one son, A. J. Jr., a soldier at Camp Gordon. The funeral will be held from the country residence at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment at Oak Lawn cemetery, this city.

Negro Kills Detective.

New Orleans, May 26.—Theodore Obitz, a detective of the New Orleans police department, was shot and killed early today by a negro he accosted in connection with an investigation of a series of hold-ups and robberies in the uptown residental section of the city during the past few weeks. A negro said by the police to be the slayer was shot to death by officers a short while afterward near where Obitz was killed.

LIEGE IS BOMBED BY ALLIED AIRMEN

Amsterdam, May 26.—The Rotterdam Maasbode reports that an entente allied air raid has been carried out over Liege. The Longdoz railway station was destroyed, and twenty-six persons were killed.

The Longdoz railway station is the junction point for lines running to Namur and Maestricht.

A dispatch from London last Wednesday said that early that morning two bombing formations sent out to attack the important railway triangle at Liege had dropped twenty-two heavy bombs and that large fires were started by the explosives.

TEUTONS LOSE PLANES ON THE ITALIAN FRONT.

London, May 26.—Twenty-four enemy airplanes have been destroyed by the British in air fighting on the Italian front since May 18, it was officially announced today in a summary of recent operations by the British forces in Italy. Not a British machine was lost in this period.

"The situation generally is quiet," the statement says. "We successfully raided enemy outposts both day and night. The hostile artillery occasionally has been slightly more active.

"Since May 18 the Royal Air force has carried out numerous reconnaissances far behind the enemy lines and collected much useful information. Many bombs were dropped on enemy hutments and dumps. In the air fighting since May 18 twenty-four airplanes were destroyed and one enemy observation balloon burned. During this period we have not lost a single machine."

FOUR U. S. AIRMEN REPORTED MISSING.

American Headquarters on the British Front, May 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Four American aviators have been reported missing on the British front, two of whom were brought down behind the German lines since April (May?) 12. The names of the missing men are not yet available.

There is no confirmation as yet to the claim of Thursday's German official statement that three American airplanes were brought down Wednesday on the Lys front.

H. H. Dean's Charges Are Denied in Card By J. B. Gaston, Jr.

Stating that he is defending the name of his deceased father, J. B. Gaston, Sr., against unjust insinuations made with reference to corrupt politics and the negro vote in a mayoralty election held years ago in Gainesville, Ga., by H. H. Dean, candidate for the United States senate, in his speech delivered at Athens, Ga., Saturday, J. B. Gaston, Jr., of 65 Oak street, gave out the following signed statement Sunday night:

Editor Constitution: Referring to the speech of Colonel H. H. Dean, of Gainesville, candidate for United States senate, printed in this morning's Constitutio.., I note that, while he refers to my deceased father as a good man and his friend, he leaves the impression that my father was elected mayor on account of the colored vote, which, it is charged, he and his supporters corralled in halls, fed and furnished whisky all night, and marched to the polls in droves. Colonel Dean knows that this was not the case when my father was elected over him. As a matter of fact, and all citizens of Gainesville know, that my father, in his several campaigns, always received the smallest number of colored votes, and our family knew that he, above all other candidates, did not make a very extended effort to secure the colored votes in Gainesville. I feel it my duty to my deceased parent to defend him against this insinuation made by Colonel Dean, and trust that I will be pardoned for quoting from The Gainesville Eagle of June 17, 1917, commenting on my father's death:

"Hon. J. B. Gaston, United States commissioner for thirty-two years, twice mayor of Gainesville, member of the board of education since its organization, twenty-five years ago, and at the time of his death chairman of the board, member of the board of trustees of Brenau college and confederate soldier, died at the Washington Park hospital, in Chicago, Tuesday afternoon at 2:25 o'clock, at the age of 67. . . .

"Judge Gaston was one of our most progressive citizens, always standing for what was best for the community and lending his great ability for the successful achievement of that purpose. His good works speak for themselves, no greater tribute could be paid any man. Loyal to his friends and staunch and honest in his manhood, we, too, grieve with his family and his great number of friends at his departure from our midst."

As to Colonel Dean's statement that he was instrumental in taking the negro out of politics in Gainesville, will say that this was not done until the disfranchisement law was passed in the legislature.

Such conditions as Colonel Dean mentions had not existed for several years previous to the time of his defeat for mayor, and my father received many more votes of business men than he did. Respectfully,

J. B. GASTON, JR.

WILL GET DIPLOMA

Mrs. Jos. H. Morgan, president of the Atlanta Pioneer Women's society and charter member of the Ladies' Memorial association, who will receive her diploma of graduation on Tuesday night at Cox college. She was prevented from receiving this diploma in her graduating year, 1861, during the civil war, on account of the impossibility of attending the final session because the Atlanta and West Point railroad was then congested by the movement of troops just as the railroads of today, when Mrs. Morgan is to receive her long deferred diploma.

KILLED AND WOUNDED REPORTED BY PERSHING

28 Names on Casualty List. Five of the Men Killed in Action.

Washington, May 26.—The army casualty list today contained 28 names divided as follows:

Killed in action, 5; died of wounds, 2; died of accident, 2; died of disease, 5; wounded severely, 7; wounded slightly, 5; missing in action, 2.

Officers named were: Lieutenants Walker Victor Barneby, Newport News, Va., and Paul B. Kurtz, Germantown, Pa., died of accident.

Major Samuel M. Wilson, Lexington, Ky.; Captain William J. Burdell, Hot Springs, Ark., and Lieutenant Frederick H. Cone, New York city, severely wounded.

Southern men included in the list follow: Corporal Silas Mullins, Haldeman, Ky., and Privates Robert A. Woods, Delhi, Ala., and James H. Major, Osceola, Texas, killed in action; Private Jerry M. Williams, 355 Eslava street, Mobile, died of disease, and Private Lafe G. Short, Durant, Okla., wounded slightly.

AMUSEMENTS

Mme. Jacob P. Adler.

(At the Atlanta.)

Mme. Jacob P. Adler, the Sarah Bernhardt of the Jewish stage, will make her initial appearance in Atlanta tonight at the Atlanta theater in one of her greatest triumphs, "Crime and Punishment." The play is replete with thrills and strong emotional scenes—and Mme. Adler is said to bring to the role of the hapless heroine an interpretation of such wonderful power and compelling charm that she positively holds her audiences spellbound by the force of her artistry. Mme. Adler will be surrounded by her own company from the Grand Street theater, New York. Tomorrow night, the last of her engagement in Atlanta, will witness the production of Jacob Gordin's masterpiece, "Without a Home." The advance sale of seats indicate capacity houses both nights.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

The Royal Hawaiians, a feature act in which nine artists from Uncle Sam's islands of romance take part, will be the headline offering of a well-balanced and highly entertaining bill at Loew's Grand theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Elaborate scenic effects are produced, and against this vivid background the artists, who are described as the best of their kind in vaudeville, render an entertaining program of dances, songs and instrumental music. Mumford and Thompson are two fat men, who, in addition to having excellent voices, have a screamingly funny "boob" act. Burke Toohey and company offer a delightful little skit called "Casey's Visit." Seabury and Price, in a rapid-fire drawing novelty, and Walsh and Lawrence, in artistic songs and dances, complete the vaudeville. The feature photoplay is a stirring World release, "The Oldest Law," starring June Elvidge.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.)

There will be a program of rare excellence at the Lyric theater for the first half of the week, when there will be two headliners—Doc Baker and His Magazine Girls and Pietro. Doc Baker, who is an old-time Atlanta favorite, will be supported by nine pretty girls, and their act will be one of the vaudeville events of the year. There is little use to expatiate upon Pietro. He is known as the master of the piano accordion, and has played in many of Atlanta's houses, always receiving a great reception, and always being a welcome visitor. In addition to these two steller features, there will be Emma Frances and her Arabs, the Dawson Sisters and Stern in melodies and dances, Johnny Eckert and company in "The Golf Players," and a splendid program of pictures.

Richard Carle.

(At the Atlanta.)

Richard Carle will play a return engagement at the Atlanta theater next Thursday, matinee and night, in his delightful musical comedy, "Furs and Frills," which received such an enthusiastic reception when given at that playhouse only a short time ago. Mr. Carle's quaint and taking sense of humor, his charm of manner and expression has never assumed higher artistic effectiveness than in "Furs and Frills," a musical play of the brightest entertainment dominated by Mr. Carle's captivating art. The same great cast of merry-makers, including Harriet Burt, Ward De Wolf, Alfred Deery, Milt Dawson, Lucy Carter, Roy Cutter, Helen Barry, Sophia Hurd, the four violin girls and the Carle chorus will be seen. The seat sale opens this morning.

Mary Miles Minter.

(At the Vaudette.)

Miss Mary Miles Minter has been appointed California president of the Children's Patriotic League of America. Miss Minter, who is starred in a new American-Mutual production called "Social Briars," picturized from a story by Jeanne Judson, at the Vaudette today, has made arrangements to tour southern California, speaking in the public schools throughout her territory in behalf of suffering Belgian babies. Mary is one of the best little talkers in the motion picture business. A few days ago she sold $30,000 worth of Liberty bonds at Santa Barbara in one afternoon.

"Blindness of Divorce."

(At the Strand.)

Idle men are much more affectionate than busy ones, declares Dr. Overton Brooks, of Chicago, testifying as an expert in a divorce proceeding in Chicago. "Business men are naturally pre-occupied with their affairs and have not the time nor thought to lavish on their wives," he said. "Because of this fact much of the coolness about which so many wives complain is caused." Just what happened through the neglect of a busy man for his wife is startlingly shown in the William Fox photodrama of life today, "The Blindness of Divorce," which will be shown at the Strand theater, commencing today.

Pauline Frederick.

(At the Rialto.)

Pauline Frederick will be heartily welcomed by the patrons of the Rialto theater in her new Paramount photoplay, "Resurrection." The picture is based upon the famous novel of Count Leo Tolstoy, and, like the story, it is a merciless arraignment of Russian social and political conditions that shamed Russia before the overthrow of that autocratic government. In the portrayal of Katusha, a Russian gypsy girl who is betrayed by a nobleman, and who later becomes a social outcast destined to banishment to Siberia, Miss Frederick appeared to exceptional advantage. The role is a strong one and affords Miss Frederick ample opportunities for the display of her versatile emotional talents.

William S. Hart.

(At the Forsyth.)

The romantic western frontiersmen and plainsmen of the days of Bret Harte, Mark Twain and Frederick Remington may have vanished forever, but they live again, fervid and realistic, in "Selfish Yates," the latest photoplay of William S. Hart, the famous Thomas H. Ince Artcraft film star, which will be seen at the Forsyth today. The theme of "Selfish Yates" is one of selfishness. In this play Mr. Hart affords his admirers an example of his best work, which is improving vastly with each new characterization he essays. The story was written by C. Gardner Sullivan and the picture was produced by Mr. Hart himself under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince. Jane Novak is his leading woman.

Nazimova.

(At the Criterion.)

An ultra-Bohemian, Parisian cafe of the Latin quarter was built in the studios for the staging of scenes in "Revelation," the great Nazimova's initial starring vehicle under the Metro banner, which is the attraction at the Criterion theater today and all week.

The spacious setting representing "The Cabaret of the Three Delights"—wine, women and song—brought the exotic Bohemian atmosphere of the gay Parisian cafe to the Metro studio.

The jolly "frequenters" drank and smoked at scores of tables in care-free revelry, while waiters scurried about dispensing drinks. At the bar, in the rear, were gathered Apaches and other denizens of the unconventional Latin quarter.

MME. JACOB ADLER GIVEN HIGH PRAISE BY DIXIE CRITICS

Mme. Jacob P. Adler, the Sarah Bernhardt of the Jewish stage, will make her first appearance in Atlanta tonight at the Atlanta theater in one of her greatest triumphs, "Crime and Punishment." It is said that wherever she has appeared in other cities, critics have been unanimous in according her the distinction of being one of the greatest tragediennes upon the modern stage.

The Savannah Morning News gives the following account of her appearance at the Savannah theater:

So enthusiastic was the large audience over the splendid acting of Madame Jacob P. Adler in "Crime and Punishment" at the Savannah theater last evening that at the close of the first and second acts they rose to their feet and gave repeated rounds of applause. Both Madame Adler and her leading man, Ira Busatt, were forced to make their appearance before the curtain, and, in short speeches, asked the people if they desired a return engagement of the company in another play. As the audience was vociferous in giving assent, the company will return in three weeks' time in one of the Jacob Gordon's most famous plays, "Without a Home," and said to be even finer than the one given last evening.

Daniel Frohman said of Madame Adler that she would be the greatest tragedienne upon the modern stage if she could only speak English, and anyone who saw her act last evening could well concur with this remark. Her acting of the intensely tragic and dramatic scenes is very reminscent of that of the great Bernhardt and the similarity is made all the more vivid because of a resemblance which Madame Adler, although a very much younger woman, bears to the Divine Sarah.

The play, although a tragedy, is full of comic touches, with several songs and dances.

PRINCIPALS DID NOT CHANGE GRADUATION

the phone acted in good faith, because they believed they were carrying out the wishes of the four principals to whom the matter had been referred.

"It is fitting that the matter should end in this way, upon the supposed indorsement of the 'four principals' of a paper which they all opposed since it began on the supposed indorsement of the 'four principals' of a plan which the majority of them were not in favor of.

"The Saturday meeting was adjourned until Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with the promise from Mr. Culver that the paper would not be given out for publication until the committee had a chance to pass on it. The Sunday meeting was not held. The time for the mass meeting, I suppose, was drawing too dangerously near.

"Something had to be done, and it was done, regardless of the wishes of the four principals behind whose petticoats this affair has been launched.

"I, for one, have not agreed to sign the paper since the meeting adjourned Saturday, although I am delighted that the wishes of the people have at last been granted."

Ex-Mayor of Savannah, Co. Food Administrator, Suffering From Poison

Savannah, Ga., May 26.—(Special.)—Former Mayor George W. Tiedeman and members of his family are in the Oglethorpe sanitarium suffering from some form of poisoning. They became suddenly ill shortly after their midday meal and were rushed to the hospital, where the usual treatment was administred. Mr. Tiedeman is the federal food administrator for Chatham county.

ALL-SUMMER SESSION FACED BY CONGRESS

Members Dissatisfied But Will Stay and Work on Revenue Legislation.

Washington, May 26.—Dissatisfied but resigned, congress is prepared to revise its legislative program this week and abandon plans for adjournment in July.

President Wilson is expected to state formally in a few days why revenue legislation before the December session is regarded as imperative. Since the democratic and republican leaders failed to agree on plans proposed by the president for a special session after the fall elections, the work of forming a new tax bill will proceed at once unless there is some unexpected development.

Final conferences on the question will be held tomorrow. Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee, plans to see Secretary McAdoo and a compromise movement to afford congress a summer vacation later on may follow. Leaders hope the administration may consent to an adjournment after the revenue bill has made substantial progress early in the fall, possibly after it had reached the senate, and defer completion of the measure until the winter session.

With an all-summer session regarded as a disappointing certainty, a slowing down of recent speed on legislation is expected, week-end recesses are planned during the summer while committees work on the tax bill. This week much important legislation is on the program.

The record breaking army appropriation bill, totalling about $12,000,000,000, with its provision for calling all men to the colors who can be trained and equipped, will be taken up Tuesday by the house under an agreement to give it the right of way in the hope of its passage early next week. Tomorrow the house plans to pass the new urgent deficiency appropriation bill carrying $123,000,000.

Increase of the army also is scheduled for consideration by the senate in discussion of the resolution of Senator Reed, of Missouri, authorizing 3,000,000 more men, unanimously reported by the senate military committee. Some opposition already has developed in the senate to the provision in the house bill, and champions of the Reed resolution hope to make it the basis of a compromise.

The aircraft inquiry of the senate military sub-committee, headed by Senator Thomas, will open formally tomorrow with a meeting to discuss procedure.

Proposed increase to $2.50 per bushel of the government's minimum guaranteed price for wheat will again be considered tomorrow by senate and house conferees on the agricultural appropriation bill, with prospects of defeat of the proposal by continuation of the present deadlock.

Under Landscape Artist, Macon Soon to Become Flower City of South

Macon, Ga., May 26.—(Special.)—Macon is soon to become a city of flowers. Sigmond Tarnok, the landscape artist who was employed several weeks ago by the city, is fast getting the work of beautifying the street parks under way and now he is preparing to turn his attention to a feature that probably does not exist in another city in the United States.

For a city of this size, Macon probably has more white way lights than any other in the country. It is Mr. Tarnok's plan to place a concrete flower box around every white way post and to fill them with bright-colored flowers. As there are hundreds of these white way posts in the business portion of the city it can readily be seen that the effect will be exceedingly pleasing to the eye.

It is planned to extend the white way system from the new terminal station to connect with the present system at Cherry and Broadway.

ATLANTA "REALTORS" WILL AID GOVERNMENT

William S. Ansley, Benjamin D. Watkins and Robert R. Otis Are Appointed.

William S. Ansley, Benjamin D. Watkins and Robert R. Otis, well-known Atlanta real estate men, have been chosen by the United States government as "realtors," to make appraisals of property or do any other necessary service that will assist in winning the war.

These men are among nine thousand other business men who have volunteered to serve all departments of the government without charge for the duration of the war. They propose to save millions of dollars and prevent excess profits in the sale or leasing of property to the government in the great emergency. These men are all members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and are known the country over as "realtors."

In the several departments where this service has already been utilized, it is said—notably the office of the alien property custodian, the quartermaster's department of the army, the shipping board and the bureau of housing and transportation of the department of labor, those men have saved thousands of dollars in appraisements and effecting economies worth hundreds of thousands of dollars in the price of realty and space desired by the government.

Growers, Desperate, Offer Large Wages For Peach Pickers

Macon, Ga., May 26.—(Special.)—Big wages, with board and room free, are the inducements being offered by the Fort Valley board of trade for men, women and children who will assist Georgia in saving her peach crop this year. The growers have tried in vain to get laor, even to the extent of asking the government to permit negro soldiers to obtain furloughs for a few weeks' work during the peach season, and now they are fast becoming desperate.

The present crop is one of the largest the peach belt has ever known and with the heighth of the season drawing near and few pickers and packers in sight the peach growers are about the bluest lot of folks in Georgia.

"Here we have more peaches than we know what to do with," said one grower today. "Half the world is starving to death because they have nothing to eat, while here we are in the midst of plenty, but with no labor to help us save what we have raised. It is enough to make a man ask is it all really worth while."

The growers are scouring the highways and byways and are offering special inducements to school children to hasten to the peach orchards just as soon as school is out.

RETURNED SOLDIERS IN RIOT AT HALIFAX

Halifax, N. S., May 26.—The wildest riot in the history of this city occurred last night when returned soldiers attempted to rescue other soldiers who had been arrested by the police. The mob tried to wreck and burn the city hall and police headquarters, cut the hose when the fire department arrived and forced the firemen to retreat.

The mob held sway until the garrison regiment arrived with loaded rifles. Hundreds of marines with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets landed from warships, succeeded in dispersing the crowds.

Several persons were injured, including three police officers. The damage to city hall will amount to several thousand dollars.

HE IS DELIGHTED AT THE RESULTS

George A. Thurmond, Popular Atlanta Man, Relates How Plant Juice Has Benefited His Stomach Trouble.

Thousands of people in Atlanta are needlessly suffering from disorders of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. Relief is near at hand, and is in the reach of everyone.

Many have found quick deliverance from their suffering by the use of Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, now being introduced at Jacobs' Pharmacy, 6-8 Marietta street, in Atlanta, which is composed of a combination of roots, herbs, barks, berries and fibres of medicinal plants, that are essential to health. That is why it regenerates the blood supply, overcomes rheumatism, eliminates catarrh and puts the stomach in condition to digest the food properly.

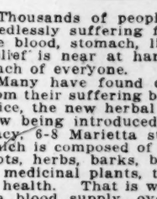

That this is proven conclusively it is only necessary to listen to the statements made daily by well-known Atlanta people who have given Plant Juice a fair trial and been benefited thereby. One of these recent testimonials which we have the liberty to publish, is from Mr. George A. Thurmond, who resides at No. 114 Mills street, Atlanta. Mr. Thurmond has resided in Atlanta for years and is known and respected by a large circle of friends who will be glad to learn of his improved health. He said:

"I had recently heard Plant Juice so enthusiastically praised that I decided to try it, as I had never been able to find anything to help my stomach trouble. I have been a sufferer for years and it finally began to affect my entire system, my food fermented and formed gas in my stomach which caused me a great deal of pain and while I was not sick enough to go to bed, I was always miserable and had that 'tired-out,' 'run-down' feeling. I have been taking your medicine, Plant Juice, only a short time, and can truthfully say that so far the results are just splendid and am glad that I began to take Plant Juice."

Plant Juice is particularly effective in relieving all diseases of the stomach, which are prevalent. Anyone of the following symptoms may indicate stomach trouble: Indigestion, dyspepsia, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, belching of wind, fermenting of food, constipation, dizziness, headache, backache, dizziness or that "tired-out," all "run-down" feeling.

The Plant Juice Man is in Atlanta at the Jacobs' Pharmacy (Main Store), 6-8 Marietta street, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of Plant Juice. Free samples given.—(adv.)

ON THE RIGHT LINE.

We publish elsewhere on this page communications from well-known negro ministers with reference to the recent Georgia lynchings.

These communications are commendable in spirit and will be effective in results if the negro ministers generally in Georgia will promulgate the doctrine so well presented by those of the race who sign the communications published today.

Governor Dorsey struck the keynote of the situation in his letter to the Augusta negro ministers a few days ago, replying to their request for an expression from him concerning the recent lynchings. He expressed regret that while condemning the lynchings the authors of the resolutions had not denounced the frightful crimes that caused them, and he very properly urged upon the race the importance of abandoning the characteristic that induces the negro to shield the criminals of their race.

The white people have no such characteristic, and the criminals of the race cannot seek shelter under cover of racial protection.

Unfortunately, it is different with the negro. The effort to locate and punish a negro criminal is too often regarded in the light of racial persecution.

Presiding Elder Bridges takes a correct view of the situation in his statement that after the Brooks county murder it was the duty of the negroes of the community to capture the farm hands who suspiciously fled immediately after the murder.

Whenever the negroes reach the point where they will let the criminals of their race understand that they will not be harbored on account of their color, but that they will be sought by the respectable representatives of their race and turned over to the law just as the white people do with the criminals of their race, the problem of lynching will have reached the first step toward solution.

The negro ministers of the state can render valuable service to that end.

SAVING SWEET POTATOES.

The Weekly News Letter of the United States department of agriculture, of May 15, contains the brief statement that "in the southern states approximately 50,000,000 bushels of sweet potatoes are produced annually, and it is estimated that at least 10,000,000 bushels of these are lost annually by decay."

In other words, at least one-fifth of the time, labor, seed, ground, cartage and storage space that is devoted to the sweet potato is annually wasted!

This is wholly wrong and indefensible, and especially will it be so if such a charge is permitted to apply to the crop of 1918, when every pound of foodstuffs the land can produce will be needed to weigh in the balance against the foe of humanity.

It is without excuse, because if it is possible to save a part of the sweet potato crop from decay there is no reason why the whole cannot be saved.

Granting that the sweet potato is an extremely sensitive vegetable—and that it requires more careful handling than most other of the field food plants, it can be saved and preserved by right methods of storing.

It stands to reason, then, that the enormous wastage cited by the department of agriculture is due to avoidable causes—either rough handling or improper methods of storage.

The sweet potato is on the up-grade in point of popularity throughout the United States and Canada, and henceforth it is to be an important national item of diet by reason of the fact that the federal government has given it a place on the regulation army bill of fare.

This will take the sweet potato to England and France and perhaps popularize it there as it is being popularized throughout the north and west, and create a new demand for it.

The growing of sweet potatoes is an ascendant and a promising industry in the southern states, and the best methods for potato production and preservation should receive careful thought and study by every progressive, wide-awake southern farmer.

Federal and state experts have prepared directions and instructions bearing upon every phase of the business, expressly for the benefit of the farmers, so that any man who has a crop of sweet potatoes coming on may safeguard against his pro rata of this ten million bushels loss this fall and winter by applying the knowledge he may gain through an inquiry directed either to the state or to the federal department of agriculture.

This year, of all years, it will be almost criminal to waste any food material that can be saved.

THE DOG OR THE LAMB?

Sheep experts who have visited this state and inspected its vast expanses of grazing ground with a view single to establishing their flocks here are of accord in pronouncing Georgia conditions ideal for their business, with one exception.

That is, here the worthless dog holds mastery over the ranges!

They want to come here; they see fortune ahead of the man who engages in the sheep business in this state. They want to get away from the west, where the once broad reaches of grazing lands are becoming narrower and narrower each year, and where long, rigorous winters and the ravages of predatory wild animals shear much of the profits off the business.

But they say that it would be financial suicide for them to come—so long as dogs are permitted to run at large and hold sway unhindered by law.

The Georgia Land Owners' association, which is interested primarily in building up the live stock industry in Georgia, has given this question specific attention and, in the light of expert opinion, has concluded that the first and a fundamental step to be taken toward the encouragement of the sheep industry in this state is to eradicate the predatory dog, and it is seeking legislation to that end.

Opinion of those who understand the business and who are conversant with conditions here seems to be agreed that Georgia cannot have sheep and at the same time allow roving, ownerless and worthless dogs to prey upon the lambs.

Therefore it seems to be a matter for Georgia to choose between the lamb and the dog!

Speaking of this condition in Georgia, F. O. Ticknor, of Albany, said in a communication published in The Constitution a few days ago:

> A great deal has been said recently about the damage and loss caused by rats, and the constant discussion of waste generally, and the conservation of food to win the war. I believe that worthless and unrestrained dogs cause as much loss as rats, and the food that is wasted on dogs, and what they destroy, would go far toward winning the war.

Georgia's loss from dogs is far greater than can be reckoned from the number of sheep dogs actually destroy. They do not destroy many sheep in Georgia, for the simple reason that there are not many sheep here for them to prey upon. The only fair way, therefore, by which to estimate their actual cost to the state is to consider what the sheep industry would be, and what it would mean to the people of Georgia but for the dog pest!

Those western sheep men, so they say, would bring thousands upon thousands of sheep to Georgia; and Georgia farmers and extensive land owners would engage in the sheep business, as a diversification side line or exclusively, but for the dog.

So which is Georgia going to favor: The dog or the lamb?

Mr. Ticknor aptly says that "it is most earnestly to be hoped that our own legislature as well as congress will give this evil the prompt attention that it deserves."

There is a means of getting rid of the dog evil, and that is through adequate legislation. It is for the general assembly to say whether or not we shall have it.

A correspondent of The Kansas City Star writes from New York that "at 84 Chauncey Depew is still a gay old bird." And no wonder; for he not only knew how to fly, but how to light.

With a war-garden hoe well in hand, you get rid of the wearying work of watching the clock; and when the sun brings beads to your brow, just call it "the fire of genius," and let it go at that.

"Weather to order" would cause such confusion up there the clouds would raise thunder.

Perhaps the way Hindenburg feels about it is that he'd rather be dead than try that "break-through" over again.

There are no churches now in the kaiser's track where he can pray to his god; but his particular god doesn't belong to the church.

They called 'em "Blue Devils" Over There because they not only knew where h—l would break loose, but how to put the fire out.

It is announced that Billy Sunday may not go "Over There," but continue to fight the other devil this side the deep sea.

It's up to the home-fighters to hold the Line on the war-garden battlefields.

A Text From Texas.

Orthodox Brother George Bailey sermonizes to this purpose:

"Now comes some Boston windjammer telling us there isn't any hell. We have no time to debate a question like that. Even if there isn't, we want the nation to line up and give the kaiser what we have always thought hell is if there is any hell."

The German "Science of Lying"

By NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS
Pastor of Plymouth Church.
(Copyright, 1918, for The Atlanta Constitution.)

For the first time in history a nation has organized lying into a science and taught deceit as an art. At the very time when the diplomats of the world have refused any form of secrecy and insist upon publishing all international treaties and doing everything in the open, Germany has organized lying into a national science. Even Maximillian Hardin, editor of Zukunft, openly acknowledges this in one of his editorials reproduced in the papers of Denmark and Holland. Hardin comes right out in the open. He tells the German people that at the beginning of the war it was necessary to say to the world that Germany was fighting a defensive war, that her back was against the wall, that those wicked enemies named England and France, Russia and Belgium were leaping upon her like wolves.

Of course, says Hardin, at first that was good diplomacy, but now that we are successful, "Why say this any longer? Let the kaiser and prime minister tell the world plainly that we decided upon this war twenty-five years ago; that during all of these years we were preparing cannons and shells; that we drilled 10,000,000 men against 'Der Tag'; that we wanted this war, that we planned this war, that we forced this war and that we are proud of it."

With one stroke Hardin has torn off the mask. He exhibits the kaiser as the prince of liars. If his words mean anything, they mean that what has long been surmised is absolutely true, namely, that Germany wished some one would kill the Austrian prince and princess so as to start the war, for which Berlin had prepared everything, down to the last buckle on the harness of the horses.

Von Bissing is not less open. Dying men are not apt to tell lies. When he saw that the end was coming the governor general of Belgium prepared what he called his "last will and testament." As a close and intimate friend of the kaiser, he left a letter with his will asking the German government to carefully consider his wishes. He says plainly that all of the statements that Berlin never intended to annex Belgium were pure camouflage. He urges the Berlin office to flatly declare its purpose never to give up a foot of the Belgian coast, nor an acre of the conquered territory of north France and Belgium.

It is of no consequence, he says, "that we have given a solemn pledge not to annex Belgium. Why not tell the world that we will have failed in the one thing for which we set out if we evacuate Belgium? We need Belgium's coast line for our shipping." He adds that Germany has used 23,000,000 tons of Belgian coal and has taken as much more iron ore out of France's basin in Briey. "We cannot live and compete with France and England if we give up the coal and iron mines that we have conquered and the harbors that we have won."

Having affirmed therefore that the German government lied at the beginning in claiming that they entered Belgium fighting a defensive warfare, General von Bissing cast about for some one behind whom he can hide as a screen and who can be used as an authority for lying. He finds his guide and leader in "The Prince," written by Machiavelli. That book has often been called a treatise on the art of lying. Never was such cunning exhibited. Never was the father of lies invoked with such skill as by the German leaders. In their sight, truth is contemptible, kindness is weakness, honor is a figment.

But the individual, the city, or the empire that builds its life on lies builds its house on sand. Soon the rains will descend and the floods come, the winds will blow, and the house will fall, and great will be the fall of it. The German is like a thirsty man who tries to quench his thirst by drinking scalding water. He is like a hungry man who tries to satisfy his appetite by eating red-hot coals.

Eloquent Sermons by Dr. C. F. Aked Are Heard by Immense Audiences

Appearing for the first time in Atlanta, Dr. Charles F. Aked, the eminent pulpit orator, of New York, preached Sunday morning in Central Congregational church, delivering an eloquent sermon, and deeply impressing his large audiences with his oratorical and intellectual powers.

Dr. Aked preached twice during the day in this church, upon invitation of the congregation, having received a call to fill the pastorate that was vacated the first of this year by Rev. W. A. Lee, who is now in the Y. M. C. A. war work.

Basing his discourse upon Jeremiah's lamentation and discouragement over disloyalty and quoting the prophet in his declaration that he wished to find a place in the wilderness for wayfaring men, with whom he could abide, he pursued the history of the great Biblical poet to the point where relief was offered him from the responsibilities of his people, and said that Jeremiah proved himself one of the world's greatest heroes by refusing to lay down his burdens.

"Unfitted for Work."

"Jeremiah longed to escape, not so much from danger," said the preacher, "as from the duty imposed by a thankless task. He was temperamentally unfitted for the work he had undertaken; he saw his national life destroyed and his people sent into exile, but when he was offered a life of ease and freedom from responsibility in Babylon he uttered the reply that has been always known as a classic of heroism: 'I dwell amongst my people.'"

Dr. Aked drew the analogy between the experiences of the great prophet and the Christians of today, who see discouragements through the disloyalty of others, and who, in moments of despair, express their desires to get from under the responsibilities of life and duty. "You say that as soon as evil is rooted out of society in one manifestation it shows itself in some other evidence or abuse, and that the massed forces of evil are too great for us, but people are better than they know, for when the proposition comes to lay down your responsibilities you will all refuse to do it."

Dr. Aked looked into the future of the world, touching upon the great struggle that is now on for the safety of civilization, and pointed out the responsibility of America, not only in the present death grapple with autocracy, but in the serious days that are to follow the war, during which the reconstruction of the world will take place upon the foundation of democracy and Christianity.

Will Meet All Demands.

"If you are loyal to your father's flag, and if you are faithful to the cross, you are more sure of your destiny," said he, speaking of the potentiality of the American people in shaping the future of the world, and there was little doubt expressed by the great preacher that America would measure up to the world's demands.

Dr. Aked, who was educated in England, where he held many important pulpit assignments, came to America to fill the pulpit of the John Rockefeller Baptist church in New York. Four years afterwards he changed to the Congregational denomination, and has filled several of the big important pulpits for that church, his last pastorate being in San Francisco, Cal. He is a man of striking appearance, fine enunciation, and his pulpit demeanor is made most impressive by the grace and force of his gestures. His prayer before opening his sermon was a beautiful invocation, showing a deep poetical nature and devotion.

Conservative Statements From Negro Ministers on Lynchings

Editor Constitution: We have read your editorial, "The Laurels of Lynchdom," on the irregularities which have taken place near Valdosta, Ga., in the southern part of the state. The editorial is very fair to both races and to the everlasting credit of our commonwealth.

The truth, as is stated in your summary, will be more fully realized as the years go by, whether it refers to labor conditions, or the rewards of justice, or making the great southland the imagined prophecy of Henry W. Grady.

We write you as advisers and representatives of our people for the reason that you represent the white people and the editor of a great democratic daily which is looked to and trusted for the truth of real conditions of all the people as they are. And there are thousands of good people all over this state who would not be a party to the mistreatment of the colored people, and they think as you do, and while they stand for the distinct separation of the two races, they believe that our interests are one in common and that the negro is entitled to the rights, privileges and full protection of the law. Knowing our people as we do, whether it relates to things good or bad, and knowing their general respect and good will towards white people, especially in the communities where they live, we cannot conceive that such barbarities upon women and men can be of a scintilla of help to the white people or to the colored people. It engenders strife in the youths of both races for years to come. It strikes down the often quoted statements that the "white man of the south" is the negroes' best friend. It paralyzes labor conditions and depopulates this section. It destroys our churches, our school houses, our homes and the conservative negro leader is practically put out of business as a teacher or adviser and real helper of his people, and the fire-eater, inflammatory speaker, among the negroes are brought to the front by the masses of our people.

It would be stranger than fiction to think that more than eight millions of black people, born and reared on the farms and plantations of the south, almost without common education and knowing little of the fundamentals of the Christian church, I say, to think that these people, though trained almost daily under the white people of the south, that there should not be found among them malicious, innocent criminals of every type of vice and meanness is to regard the negro in too high a sense along these lines. And yet, has not the white race the control of the ballot, the jail, the jury—in other words, has not the white race in the south the full control of the courts, and is not the punishment for crimes certain? Not only the courts, but the press wire and the press itself and the version of these irregularities in every community are in the control of the great white race.

We venture the assertion that the intelligent, honest and conservative negro preacher and leader hammers on the negro congregation about their bad behavior, dishonesty and how they ought to endeavor to become decent and respectable citizens ten times to one of the white minister.

All through slavery, during the reconstruction and up to the last few years the negro has been as faithful as a watch-dog to his master. He has labored for whatever wages given him, he never strikes for higher wages unless advised by someone else. Thousands of some of the best people in the south had their start towards wealth by the cheap, but faithful, labor of honest, hard-working negroes.

The bulk of the cotton, corn, potatoes, rice and other products have been produced by these humble black people who deserve the protection of the strong arm of the law. Also, the millions of brick, and millions of feet of lumber and thousands of miles of railroad, wagon and automobile highways have been made possible by these same black people or their fathers. These negroes have millions of dollars of property in farm land, live stock, church and school property which they have secured since the war. Millions of their dead sleep in the graveyards of the south and they hope to be buried here themselves, and why should not they be permitted to remain here?

Those who violate the laws, let them be punished according to their crime and according to law. Again we thank you for that stand which you took in the editorial that means more for the white race than our race, and means more for this commonwealth, its present and future prosperity, than can now be expressed in words.

You and your paper have done many good deeds for Georgia and her people. We do not recall one greater than the editorial which appears in today's paper on the lynching of a negro woman and five colored men in the southern part of the state in the last few days.

Hundreds of my people all over the state have not been able to sleep at night or take food at regular meals. They are using every method to get away from communities which they regard dangerous now or hereafter.

NEGRO MINISTER SAYS RACE MUST NOT SHIELD CRIMINALS

Editor Constitution: The terrible south Georgia lynchings, according to press reports, grew out of the killing of a prominent white farmer by the name of Hamilton Smith at Barney, Ga., on Thursday night of May 16th inst.; and Mrs. Smith, who fled from the house, was attacked by the murderers, who were presumed to be two negroes who had stolen Mr. Smith's shotgun.

The next morning the negroes who worked on Mr. Smith's place had disappeared, which would naturally cause suspicion to point directly to them; and had I been living in that section I would have been among the first to offer my service to the sheriff or any orderly posse of civility to capture those farm hands, even at the cost of my life, and carry them before the justice of the law to answer for their disappearance from the Smith farm; and had the investigation shown their complicity in any way to the crime I would have been one of the first to demand a speedy jury trial. If the evidence in the case convicted them of the crime without provocation I would be first to say "by our law hang them until dead."

And I believe any sane negro man or woman in our great state and southland stands ready to co-operate with law and justice as I have set forth in my position.

On the other hand, I believe a great wrong is being done the state to inflict upon any man or woman, be he white or black, who has been charged on suspicion of the blackest crime, to be taken in the hand of a mob and be put to death in a most brutal and inhuman manner, and sometimes his or her body burned at stake before being given a trial by the laws of our state to prove the guilt or innocence.

Such measures broaden the chasm between the two races, and drive thousands of the best element of the negroes from the state.

I appeal to law-abiding white citizens of our great state not to let this wholesale lynching of negroes in Brooks county go unchallenged.

We are in war with Germany, and we are going to win; and to do so demands the united forces of every white man and negro in America. There is no time for division and strife among us. Let us stand together as one man leaving all of our home troubles to be adjusted by the laws we have made, which are strong and adequately sufficient to punish all crime, and win a great victory in this war for our nation. The interests of one should be the interests of all.

Presiding Elder Atlanta District Georgia Conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church, Atlanta, Ga.

MANY PLACES ARE OPEN AT EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

The Federal-State Employment service, at 16 South Pryor street, placed during the past week a number of persons, both men and women, in good paying positions, through its free employment service, which is extended without charge to employer and employee alike. Since its opening the service has placed many persons in positions created by war conditions.

This office has exceptional opportunities this week for a number of persons, both male and female. These include department store salesmen and women of experience, stenographers, experienced clerical workers, an experienced pharmacist, and a woman of executive ability and training for a large dormitory for an industrial plant.

The employment service can also place immediately any number of house and ship carpenters, metal workers, riggers, millwrights, structural iron workers, pipe fitters, machinists, blacksmiths, apprentices and laborers.

Men and women not already employed, and employers of labor, are invited to make use of this employment service by calling at the offices, 16 South Pryor street.

Editorial on Lynching Had Cold Steel in It

Editor Constitution: Your editorial on the disgraceful and degrading and debasing lynchings in Georgia should be read by every citizen who loves the state. It had the cold steel in it that we need to arouse us to the enormity of this crime against law and justice.

With pride I was beginning to look upon Georgia as making progress in respect for law, but this inhumane, unbridled mob while dragging the body of the criminal through the streets also dragged the good name of Georgia in the dust and outraged justice.

Seen and Heard in Washington

By JAMES A. HOLLOMON
Staff Correspondent of The Atlanta Constitution.

Washington, May 26.—(Special.)—There seems to have been a general misunderstanding of President Wilson's recent proclamation establishing a license system for the farm implement trade. Thousands of inquiries have poured into Washington from retail dealers everywhere—quite a few of them from Georgia and hundreds from the southern states—seeking first-hand information as to whether retailers are included in the license regulations. They are not included! At the same time, while exempt from the general license provision, the government has made it plain that profiteering will not be tolerated among them. Where such is indulged in, and proven, it is no secret that severe trade penalties will be exacted.

The provisions of the food control act of August 10, 1917, under which was issued the president's proclamation of May 14, 1918, bringing under license the manufacture, importation, distribution and storage of tools, implements, machinery and certain other farm equipment, expressly exempt retailers as such from the licensing requirements and define a retailer as "a person, copartnership, firm, corporation or association not engaging in the wholesale business whose gross sales do not exceed $100,000 per annum."

The regulations provide that a licensee shall not, without the express sanction of the secretary of agriculture, sell any farm equipment to any person engaged in the business of selling or utilizing such equipment, if the licensee has knowledge that such person, after the regulations became effective, has violated the provisions of the food control act by making an unjust or unreasonable rate or charge in selling or otherwise handling or dealing in such equipment or by holding, contracting for or arranging for a quantity in excess of the reasonable requirements of his business for use or sale by him for a reasonable time.

* * * *

Profiteering-- Big and Little.

Talking about profiteering!

There is so much of it, in so many different lines of trade, that it is astonishing the public accepts the situation with as much complaisance as it does. If there is a report of some individual or corporation making several hundred thousand, or several million, from contracts there is a wave of indignation, a threatened congressional investigation, a few days of newspaper headlines, and then a painful stillness, like the proverbial "quiet after the storm." But the indignation of the people is justly aroused because the profiteering is at the expense of the government—a government that is being sorely taxed to meet the emergencies of war.

In the meantime—

The hundreds of millions of people who constitute the American public are individually victims every day of profiteering practices that are no less reprehensible, no less amenable to the laws; and no less violations not only of the code of equities, but of every principle of decency and honor and worthiness.

As a people, we accept them. Why? There are several reasons. It is a time of war, with every red-blooded, loyal American ready to throw his all into the balance for America's cause; and in the enthusiasm of true, militant patriotism we don't stop to count the costs in the material things. We give little thought to the "whys" or the "wherefores." Our one concern is the prospective result.

Another reason is the general ignorance of the public as to the actual war conditions that exist in trade affairs.

* * * *

As an illustration of a system of profiteering that is eating into the very vitals of thousands of people in every city in America today—more especially in Washington, it appears—take the cafe and restaurant trade.

Food prices generally are from 25 to 50 per cent higher than ante-bellum prices, immediately preceding the declaration of war. The bill-of-fare prices, as a rule—let's hope there are some exceptions—are 50 to 100 per cent higher than during the same period. The public pays the excess profit to the cafe proprietor.

But that is not half.

Under the pretext of meat scarcities the portion is cut one-third to a half. The public pays the excess profit on the basis of the ante-bellum portion and gets a greatly reduced portion "because these are war times."

That is not all.

The expense of the service is greatly reduced on the theory that "the people will accept anything in war."

The little trimmings are cut out; where one pound of butter was formally subdivided into one hundred individuals, the same pound is now cut into two hundred individuals. An extra piece of butter in many of the cafes costs an extra penny.

Bread is no more expensive now than just preceding the war. Indeed, it is less than during the sensational advance in flour in 1916. Under the conservation regulations, however, the public is fooled at many of the cafes into the belief that it can have just two thin slices—the Lord knows how many such slices really fit into a 16-ounce loaf—and if more is asked for the reply is very promptly made that that is all allowed "in war times;" but don't overlook that another order can be secured for another dime.

It is not conservation except to conserve excess profits for the proprietor, who feasts upon conditions that are weighing heavily upon our souls, and put us in that frame of mind and heart that we accept any condition—so our boys are getting the attention that is due them; and so our cause is leading to victory.

* * * *

Feeding Two on What One Formerly Ate.

The average cafe proprietor in America today is feeding, on a conservative estimate, two adults on the same food quantities, including bread, butter and sugar, that he fed one adult on before the war, and is getting an average of 50 per cent more gross income from each of the two than from the one before. Talk about profiteering!

* * * *

Next Thursday has been set apart by the president as a national day of prayer for victory and peace. It behooves everybody, saint and sinner, to petition our Heavenly Father on that day—why not on every day?—for the success of our cause, and for a quick and an everlasting peace. Not that the Lord will answer those prayers without the effort and the sacrifice. That "the Lord is on the side of the heaviest artillery" is an adage as old as the story of Napoleon; but prayer will serve to bring us closer to a realization of the sacrifices that we are offering. The silence of prayer will make us send our thoughts even more reverently to the struggling, the dying and the suffering of our own blood "over there;" it will bind us closer to the sacredness of our duty; it will strengthen the arms and sustain the hearts of our boys, for it will fix our purposes, and make our determinations immutable.

Let's try it!

FULTON MASONS HOLD BIG MEETING THURSDAY

Great Association, With 7,000 Members, Will Be Launched at That Time.

Fulton county Masons are looking forward with great interest to the launching of the Fulton County Masonic association on Thursday night at the Masonic temple, where 7,000 Master Masons of Fulton county will participate in the new organization.

It is not intended to have any dues, fees or assessment and membership in any lodge of Master Masons insures a hearty welcome in the Fulton County Masonic association.

J. K. Orr, chairman of the Masonic Temple company, will be formally invited this week to co-operate with the patriotic purpose of the organization to establish a local headquarters in the Masonic temple, where soldiers who are Masons will have an especial welcome.

Professor Charles S. Culver, worshipful master of Georgia lodge, is chairman of a committee which has completed a tentative constitution to be offered at the opening meeting.

The committee, comprising the worshipful masters of twenty-two Fulton county lodges, is in charge of launching the Fulton County Masonic association and consists of the following members: J. B. Bradford, Atlanta lodge; R. W. Underwood, secretary, W. D. Luckie lodge; J. A. Mable, Battle Hill lodge; H. J. Graves, John Rosier lodge; Joseph Lazear, Fulton lodge; John Burdett, Bolton lodge; Albert Woolley, Gate City lodge; A. B. Chapman, past master, and Vernon Skiles, master, Malta lodge; A. M. Turner, Capitol View lodge; N. E. McGhee, Lebanon lodge; C. S. Culver, Georgia lodge; J. A. Hamby, Inman Yards lodge; J. G. Hardy, Adamsville lodge; C. A. Pitts, John R. Wilkinson lodge; M. S. Johnson, Piedmont lodge; J. B. Hemperley, East Point lodge; F. F. Edwards, Lakewood lodge; L. A. Niven, College Park lodge; Dr. L. P. Baker, Capital City lodge; J. B. Jackson, Palestine lodge.

Other committees are: Constitution, by-laws and finance, C. S. Culver, chairman; Albert Woolley, W. H. Terrell. Entertainment committee, Sam Johnson, chairman; C. A. Pitts, C. S. Culver, J. B. Hemperley and A. M. Turner.

W. H. Terrell, past master of Atlanta lodge, one of the prime movers in Fulton County Masonic association, was made an honorary member of this committee of the worshipful masters of the Fulton county lodges. Jim Fuller, also a past master of Atlanta lodge, says he was prompted to introduce the original resolution in Atlanta lodge, which he and W. H. Terrell have carried to all the Masonic lodges of the county, because there are peculiar local Masonic problems demanding concerted action. Among these he emphasizes the patriotic opportunity for service to Masons in the army and in every station in life.

BETTER CONDITIONS FOR THE JEW ASKED BY THE METHODISTS

Signatures of many of Atlanta's most prominent men and a large number of the church dignitaries attending the recent Methodist conference here have been secured by Miss Grace E. McConnell, of Birmingham, to a petition asking President Wilson to intercede for an international conference to better the condition of the Jews.

Miss McConnell has for many years been active in seeking to relieve persecuted Jews and her present efforts are directed toward enlisting Christians' aid for the Palestine movement.

ATLANTA LAW SCHOOL WILL CLOSE JUNE 3

The most successful year in the history of the Atlanta Law school will come to a fitting close Monday night, June 3, when the commencement exercises will be held in the courtroom of the United States district court at 8:15 o'clock. The program will be marked by patriotic features.

Two young women, both the wives of American army officers, are to be awarded the degree of bachelor of law. They are Mrs. Jefferson Lamar Newbern, wife of First Lieutenant Newbern, of the coast artillery, now in "overseas" service, and Mrs. Basil Stockbridge, the wife of Captain Stockbridge, of Camp Wheeler, and daughter-in-law of Dr. H. E. Stockbridge, editor of The Southern Ruralist.

A meeting of the school faculty is to be held Monday night, at which time the valedictorian is to be named. At the same time in the main auditorium of the law school building on South Pryor street the student body will hold a free-for-all open contest to determine the winner of the oratorical medal for this year. Prominent Atlanta lawyers are to act as judges in the contest.

The winner of the gold medal given by Attorney Robert C. Alston for the best thesis will not be made public until the night of the commencement exercises.

SHUN SPIRITUALISM, CARLISLE B. HAYNES URGES GREAT CROWD

"Unseen agencies of the spirit world, cunning, fiendish, but with keen intelligence, have been the influences which have assumed the leadership in Germany's determination to dominate the world. The kaiser, just as was the czar, has been the victim of demoniac control and possession. It is this that accounts for his conviction that he is under the direct guidance of a supernatural power. And he is right, but that supernatural power is the power of satan himself. The same spirits which appear in spiritualistic seances in America, which are unseen demons, are the spirits which have guided the kaiser in all his atrocities."

These striking statements were made last night before the largest Sunday night audience in Atlanta at the Lyric theater by Carlyle B. Haynes, the author, minister and lecturer, in his fourth address there, the subject of which was "Spiritualism—What Is It?"

Mr. Haynes urged his hearers to shun spiritualism as they would the plague, assuring them that all of the phenomena, the table tipping, the slate writing, the materialization of spirits, spirit communication, and even the antics of the ouija board, were accomplished by the actual interposition of spirits of devils in human affairs.

Next Sunday night at the Lyric Mr. Haynes will deliver a fifth address, his subject then being "The Seven Seal; or God's Forecast of the Christian Era to Its End."

Mr. Haynes will attend the interdenominational prophetic conference at Philadelphia this week, leaving for there this morning, and his meetings in Cable hall will be discontinued until Monday night, June 3.

Night Watchman Held On Charge of Taking Government Alcohol

On the charge of stealing alcohol from the department laboratory of the southeast department of the United States army, at 510 Hurt building, George T. Chaffin, 49 years old, the night watchman of the building, who gave his address as 491 Crew street, was lodged in the police station about 7 o'clock Sunday night by the military police.

Chaffin was arrested by Sergeant A. L. Steele, of the military police, who had been stationed in the laboratory by government authorities, who, it is said, have been missing alcohol for some time. According to the statement of Steele, Chaffin, who had keys to the laboratory, came inside, and, from a place of concealment, he says, he watched him pour out a glass of pure alcohol. He immediately placed him under arrest and notified police headquarters. Before the officers arrived Steele claims Chaffin attempted to throw a bottle of alcohol, which he had in his pocket into a waste basket.

Chaffin was brought to headquarters by Officers Fain and Mashburn, who turned him over to Captain William Long, of the military police, who ordered him held for the department of justice.

FULTON BOARD GIVES REGISTRATOR NOTICE

All persons subject to registration on June 5 living in Fulton county outside of the city limits of Atlanta, are under jurisdiction of the local board of Fulton county, and the following instructions have been issued by L. G. Whitney, the chairman, for their information:

Owing to a proclamation issued by the president of the United States on May 20, 1918, setting the 5th day of June, 1918, as the day for all male persons who have become twenty-one (21) years of age since June 5, 1917, to register. All persons subject to registration on June 5, 1918, living in Fulton county, state of Georgia, out side of the city limits of Atlanta, are under jurisdiction of the local board, county of Fulton, with rooms at 401-5 Fulton county courthouse, Atlanta, Ga., and are hereby notified that they must present themselves to the above named board at Rooms 401-5, Fulton county courthouse, on June 5, 1918, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. and register.

Any person, who, on account of sickness will be unable to present themselves for registration on that day, set by the president, will cause some competent person to apply to his local board for a copy of the card and for authority to fill it out (including the registrar's report on the back thereof.) When made out the card will be mailed by the sick person or delivered by his agent to the local board having jurisdiction of the area in which he permanently resides.

The sick person will inclose a self-addressed envelope for a registration certificate.

Pesons failing to comply with above instructions are liable to prosecution and imprisonment.

STREET MEETING HELD BY REV. T. H. HARRISON

After being away for two weeks during which time he toured Georgia, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina for the Red Cross, speaking to railroad men, employees of manufacturing concerns and shipbuilding plants, Rev. T. H. Harrison, pastor of the Christian Helper's League in Atlanta and well-known street evangelist, stood at his accustomed place on Marietta street Sunday afternoon and spoke in his usual forceful manner to an audience of more than 500 people. Twenty-one responded to his appeal and consecrated themselves to better lives.

Mr. Harrison has helped in the raising of thousands of dollars for the Red Cross by workmen to whom he has spoken. He spoke at a number of plants and shops where the employees went over the top 100 per cent, he stated upon his return.

THOUSANDS SEE FILMS AT LAKEWOOD SUNDAY

The War Camp Activities committee has transferred its Sunday afternoon moving picture show from the Auditorium to Lakewood park for the remainder of the summer. Entertaining films were viewed by an open-air throng of hundreds at Lakewood Sunday night. The park drew its quota of the thousands who sought recreation in the open Sunday afternoon and evening.

COOK CLAYTON TRIAL IS AGAIN POSTPONED

Macon, Ga., May 26.—(Special.)—Cook Clayton, former clerk of the United States district court for the southern district of Georgia, now under indictment in the federal court on a charge of embezzlement, and who was to have gone to trial before Judge Beverly Evans this week, has been granted a further continuance. The action was taken ecause of the illness of the attorney for the defendant.

STATE BANKERS WILL CONVENE HERE TODAY

Georgia Financiers Will Be in Session at Piedmont for Three Days.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Georgia Bankers' association will begin at the Piedmont hotel tonight, continuing Tuesday and Wednesday.

The first evening will be devoted to a dinner at the Piedmont hotel given by the association. The delegates will be seated in five sections according to the five groups in which the association is divided. Each group will be represented by a speaker. William V. Davis, of Savannah, will represent Group I, his subject, "Carry On;" H. H. Gordon, Jr., of Athens, Group II, "The Boy of Sixteen—His Place in Our Business;" Joseph S. Calhoun, Cartersville, Group III, "Subject to Protest;" Rev. M. L. Lawson, Sylvester, Group IV, "Paying Investments," and M. H. Blackshear, Dublin, Group V, "Money's New Opportunity for Service."

Business Session Tuesday.

The first business session will be Tuesday morning. It will be called to order in the assembly hall of the Piedmont at 10 o'clock by President Rufus H. Brown, of Augusta. The opening prayer will be delivered by the Right Rev. Harry J. Mikell, bishop of Atlanta.

Addresses of welcome will be made by Governor Hugh M. Dorsey and by President A. P. Coles, of the Atlanta Clearing House association. The response will be by E. J. Perry, of Bainbridge.

Charles A. Hinsch, of Cincinnati, president of the American Bankers' association, will address the bankers on "Financial Efficiency in War Times." He will be followed by Francis H. Sisson, president of the Guaranty Trust company, New York, whose subject is "Looking Forward."

The reports of officers and committees will conclude the day's work. In the afternoon the golfing members will participate in a tournament at Druid Hills and the non-golfers will form an interested gallery. Unusual interest has been shown in this match. The Atlanta Clearing House association has offered a handsome silver cup as a trophy for the low net score. The cup will be awarded to the winner during the annual dinner at the Capital City club roof garden Tuesday night. A number of acts have been promised for this occasion from the soldiers at Camp Gordon, and there will be professional vaudeville talent as well.

Wednesday morning the delegates will be taken to Camp Gordon to see the making of the great American army in one of its interesting stages. Automobiles have been provided for the trip by the Atlanta banks.

Final Session Wednesday.

In the afternoon the final session will be held, at which it was planned until the last day or two to have the first address by Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman national war savings committee. He has wired that he cannot be present, but the subject will be ably presented by another. Dr. Andrew M. Soul, state food administrator, was also scheduled for the second day and he has been called to Washington on government duty.

"Not Our Bit, But Our Best" will be the subject of an address by Major Eugene Murphy, of the base hospital at Camp Gordon.

An interesting feature of the afternoon's program will be the announcement of the rules and conditions under which a pure-bred registered Holstein bull will be awarded as a prize to the most successful member of the boys' calf clubs in Georgia. The bull was donated to the association for this purpose by Mills B. Lane, of Savannah, from his Lebanon plantation and such a prize is expected to greatly stimulate live stock breeding in Georgia. The full brother of this bull sold for $750.

The meeting will close with the election of officers.

W. O. Baldwin Swims Until Friends Bring Him More Clothes

W. O. Baldwin is fond of swimming and of disporting himself in the pellucid waters of Piedmont park. Saturday evening, however, he confessed to having had a little too much of his favorite pastime.

While Mr. Baldwin was in the water, some heartless thief broke open his locker and took everything—every article of clothing and a watch valued at $50 and about $15 in cash. Mr. Baldwin was forced to disport in the waters contrary to regulations, while a messenger brought another supply of clothes from his home at 86 Howard street, Kirkwood.

LUTHERAN BROTHERHOOD HOLDS MEETING TONIGHT

The social and literary meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the English Lutheran church, Capitol place and Trinity avenue, will be held tonight at 7 o'clock, following a supper which will be served at the church at 6:30 o'clock.

Addresses by Carl O. Mullins and James Morton will feature the meeting. Mr. Mullins will speak on "Advertising," while Mr. Morton, who is the executive secretary of the Atlanta Ministerial association, will have for his subject "The Relation of the Laymen of the Church to the Life of the Community." A program of music will be rendered by the orchestra.

Last Week's Failures.

Commercial failures last week in the United States, as compared by R. G. Dun & Co., are 184, against 196 the preceding week, 211 the next preceding week, and 314 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 12, against 23 the previous week, 14 the next preceding week, and 14 last year. Of failures in the United States, 77 were in the east, 36 south, 47 west and 24 in the Pacific states, and 56 reported liabilities of $5,000 or more, against 72 reported last week.

Luxury For Sore Feet

Skin specialists have discovered that painful, perspiring and swollen feet with corns, bunions and ingrowing nails are all caused by germs which grow in the pores of the skin, causing decay of the cuticle, irritation, rawness, eczema, inflammation and odor. These germs are instantly destroyed by Eucapine, the antiseptic, healing salve, applied after bathing at bedtime. It draws out all the inflammation and soreness before morning, destroys the germs and restores healthy condition to the skin and nails.

It is explained that ingrowing nails do not really grow down into the flesh, as supposed, but that the flesh, being swollen, is pressed up over the nail. The Eucapine takes out the swelling and inflammation, destroys the germs and the trouble disappears. Corns and bunions gradually disappear in the same manner by removing the cause.

Eucapine is the modern scientific treatment for pain, inflammation and germ infections of the skin and mucous membranes and has many daily uses in every home. Ask your druggist to send you a family jar, price 25 cents.—Adv.

2,375 Selectmen Reach City From Ohio and From Illinois

A total of more than 2,500 selectmen, 2,300 of whom are representatives of the state of Ohio, arrived at Camp Gordon Sunday in special troop trains in response to the draft call that went into effect on May 25. In addition to the Ohio men, who came here in four troop trains, Illinois sent a delegation of about 35 men and Georgia supplied the remaining 175.

The Ohio men are all representatives of the city of Cleveland, while the Illinois and Georgia men represent rural towns of their respective states. The trains bearing the Ohioans arrived at varied intervals throughout the day, and were met at the camp station by special details from the receiving station.

Upon arrival at the camp the contingents of each of the trains were aligned and marched through the section formerly occupied by the infantry—a distance of about two miles—to the receiving station, where they were met by Captain Glenn B. Ryman, receiving officer, and put through the preliminaries of entrance to the forces of Uncle Sam's national army.

Announcement has been made that all the new troops will be assigned to the ranks of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth infantry replacement regiments, organizations of the big replacement depot into which Camp Gordon has recently been converted. This means that the new men will be given the three months' intensive course recently outlined here for troops of the replacement station in order that they may be fitted for the quickest possible service in the trenches.

About 2,000 troops are due to arrive here Tuesday, officials have stated. Georgia will send about 200 men, a special train from Illinois is due to arrive, and Ohio is to send approximately 1,000 more selectmen on that day. Examinations and paper work operations are in full swing, and little time is being lost in beginning the actual training of the new men.

PLANT IS DAMAGED BY FLAMES SUNDAY; FACTORY INSURED

Considerable damage was done by flames at the factory of Bostrum-Brady company, manufacturers of farm machinery, at the corner of Madison avenue and Garnett street, Sunday morning. The stock of Arnold-Mears Co., distributers of Lowney's candy, at 12 and 14 Garnett street, and a storeroom, which is used by the Postal Telegraph company, at 16 Garnett street, directly under the factory of Bostrum-Brady Co., were badly damaged by water. The loss is estimated at several hundred dollars.

The flames were discovered by Captain, J. O. Hall, in charge of No. 5 engine house, which is at the corner of Peters street and Madison, a block away from the fire.

Chief Cody announced Sunday that he believed the cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion, as he had learned that no one had been in the building since noon Saturday. He declares that he is under the impression that the fire originated from a pile of steel shavings, as the fire was first discovered near this point in the building.

It is understood that all the damage was partly covered by insurance.

CELEBRATION PLANNED BY COLORED Y. M. C. A.

The colored department of the Y. M. C. A. is busy getting ready for a big celebration on the Fourth of July when the cornerstone will be laid at the new building on Butler street. As the work goes on from day to day many of the people stop by to inquire about its completion. Each week some of the long-delayed pledges are paid up, as new faith in the completion of the work has been established. In view of the deep interest and large-hearted support given by the white friends a few weeks ago, the negroes have decided to furnish the building themselves. They are calling on the members of their race in every walk of life to help and the response is very encouraging.

$340 RAISED SUNDAY FOR THE RED CROSS AT PRISON CONCERT

With the $340 raised Sunday afternoon as the proceeds of the federal prison band concert in the prison auditorium, and with $82 collected at a former concert and $239.64 previously raised, the prisoners have gathered a fund of nearly $700 for the Red Cross.

The admission charge was 25 cents and the big audience that made the $340 collection possible got more than their money's worth, since the concert itself was worth more than the admission price, and the money will aid the Red Cross.

One of the features of the program offered was a new march composed by R. E. McQuellen, a member of the band, and another feature was the rendering of old southern melodies by the Jubilee Big Four.

Mrs. Fred G. Zerbst was in charge of the arrangement of the program, which was directed by Acting Warden Schoen.

DR. W. T. GOLDSMITH DIES IN WASHINGTON

News was received in Atlanta yesterday of the death in Washington Saturday afternoon of Dr. W. T. Goldsmith, prominent surgeon and former Atlantan. Surviving Dr. Goldsmith are three brothers living in Atlanta, J. H. Goldsmith, J. M. Goldsmith and J. W. Goldsmith, and another brother, W. L. Goldsmith, a resident of Birmingham. He is also survived by his widow, three sons and two daughters, one of whom, Mrs. Charles Wurm, lives in Atlanta. Dr. Goldsmith made his home in Atlanta until he moved to Washington fifteen years ago.

The funeral will take place Tuesday morning and will be in charge of confederate veterans. Interment will be in the national cemetery at Arlington, as Dr. Goldsmith was a surgeon in the confederate army.

Catcher Picinich Is Traded To Washington for Three Men; New Catcher Joins Atlanta

Announcement was made last night by the management of the Atlanta club that Catcher Val Picinich has been traded by the Atlanta baseball team to the Washington Americans and will join that club today.

In exchange for this valuable player, the local club will secure the service of Shortstop Sam Crane and Outfielder Acosta, who have been playing with the locals for some time. In addition they will be given Catcher Casey, who is considered one of the best men in the minor leagues.

Casey will be remembered in the Southern for his clever work as a member of the Little Rock team. From Little Rock he went to Detroit, where he played for some time, and from that club was sent to Buffalo, where he played when Secretary Billy Smith, of the Atlanta club, was the manager. When Buffalo was forced to cut down he was sent to Salt Lake.

While Atlanta baseball fans will greatly regret the departure of Picinich, they will one and all be glad that he has been given a chance in the big league to show his abilty there, and will be satisfied with the trade, for Crane and Acosta have both made good with Atlanta and Casey will be sure to make a hit with the locals.

Casey reached Atlanta Sunday and will join the team in Birmingham in time for the game today, while Picinich has already left for Washington and will be with that team today.

Baron-Cracker Series Transferred Over There

Crackers Open Road Trip in Slagville — Play Eighteen Games — Return Home Again on June 13.

By Dick Jemison.

The Crackers boarded a rattler last night and this morning they will unload at Birmingham and this afternoon play the first of a three-game series with the Birmingham Barons.

This series was originally scheduled to be played in Atlanta, but the Crackers could not make the jump to Little Rock to play there Thursday, so they switched a series with the Barons.

The Barons will come to Atlanta for three games on July 1, 2 and 3 instead of the Crackers playing over there.

On their last visit to Birmingham the Crackers broke even in a two-game series. This series opens an eighteen-game road trip, which will keep the Crackers on hostile soil until June 13.

The road trip is as follows:
May 27, 28, 29 in Birmingham.
May 30, 31, 31, June 1 in Little Rock.
June 2, 3, 4, 5 in Memphis.
June 6, 7, 8, 9 in Chattanooga.
June 10, 11, 12 in Nashville.

The Crackers will be paying their first visit of the season to Little Rock, Memphis and Nashville, but they have been to both Chattanooga and Birmingham before.

Maybe the locals have hit their real stride and will tear things up while on the road trip. They surprised every one by winning five out of nine games on the last trip. Playing the class of ball that they exhibited Friday and Saturday they will have little to worry about.

The players who were taken on the trip are Pitchers Brennan, Engel, Lynch, Hoffman, Thorburn and Wingo, Catchers Picinich and Matthews, Infielders Mayer, McDowell, McDonald, Crane and Galloway, Outfielders Moran, Acosta and Strait.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Philadelphia 4, Cincinnati 3.

Cincinnati, May 26.—A batting rally off Schneider gave Philadelphia today's contest in the eighth inning. A triple play prevented Cincinnati from tying or winning in the last half of the eighth. Watson relieved Hogg and was hit for a three-bagger by Wingo and singles by Bressler and Groh. With men on first and second L. Magee lined to Bancroft, who stepped on second, retiring Groh and threw to first in time to retire L. Magee.

Chicago 5, New York 1.

Chicago, May 26.—Jim Vaughn, backed with perfect support, pitched almost invincible ball today, holding New York to four hits, only two of which were bunched in the opening, while Chicago hit Sallee freely, concentrating most of their attack in the third, fifth and seventh innings. The locals won, 5 to 1, making it two straight from the league leaders. The crowd was the largest of the season, an overflow in the outfield making ground rules necessary. A near riot was prevented by a government agent who came to the rescue of a fan who refused to stand or take off his hat when the "Star Spangled Banner" was played. When several sailors and soldiers leaped at the offending fan the agent took him in custody and led him away.

BASEBALL IS POPULAR IN THE TRAINING CAMPS

Washington, May 26.—Athletic sports have become so popular among the American soldiers training in the United States that the commission on training camp activities has found it necessary to extend its work along all lines and in some camps so many men are reporting for play when free from duty that it has been found necessary to enlarge the athletic fields.

A summary of camp recreation issued today by the commission shows that baseball is the most popular sport. To encourage play, full equipment has been sent to all camps, including more than 70,000 balls and 3,000 bats, while new diamonds have been laid out in nearly every training center. Camp Lewis, Washington, is using sixteen fields. Battalion, regimental and interregimental leagues have been formed and it is planned to have the camp champions meet in the fall in post-seasonal games wherever possible.

Next to the national game, boxing is proving the most popular recreation, more than 6,000 sets of gloves have been sent to the men and so great has become the demand for instructions that in one camp alone more than 800 assistant boxing instructors are kept busy.

Track athletics, golf, swimming, tennis and polo have many followers, while other sports which are proving popular include volleyball, pushball and cross-country runs.

COTTON IRREGULAR WITH JULY STRONG

Contract Prices This Week Will Depend Partially on Washington Developments as Regards Proposed Investigation.

New Orleans, May 26.—The cotton market was irregular last week, July showing much more strength than other months. This was partly due to the beginning of an attempt at readjustment of differences in prices between spots and contracts, but more especially was the result of the undoing of a great volume of straddle trades between the old and the new crops. Heavy sales of July had been made against purchases of new crop months and this week the straddlers found themselves in such an uncomfortable position that they started to liquidate.

The sensation of the week was the investigation of contract trading threatened by the department of agriculture. This caused a bulge of 65 points on July on the closing session. Much severe criticism has been heard lately because of the wide discount of contracts as illustrated by the closing price for the week of 24.82 cents on July, as compared with the closing price on middling of 28.75. An investigation of the conditions leading to this discount has been asked for.

The net change for the week in contract prices was a raise of 29 points to a loss of 66 points. Spots lost 50 points. At their lowest contracts were 139 to 152 points under last week's close and at their highest 4 points under to 37 points over. Much of the selling of the week was induced by the favorable weather prevailing over the belt, which led to expectations of high condition figures to May 25.

This week the situation will depend to a great extent on developments in Washington regarding the investigation announced in Saturday's dispatches. The action of the market at the end of the week, when July bulged 65 points, indicated that the trade believes any straightening out of differences in spot and contract prices will mean higher quotations on contracts.

The first condition reports on the new crop from the government is due June 4 and this week the market will have to discount several private bureau estimates of the percentage to be returned. These estimates are likely to have an important bearing on the trading. The market will be closed Thursday, Memorial day.

Knights of Pythias Gather Here Today To Plan War Work

The supreme lodge war council of the Knights of Pythias will be opened this morning at 9:30 in the New Kimball, and a large number of prominent members of the order will be present.

Among the distinguished lodge men expected to be here are: Supreme Chancellor John J. Brown, of Chicago; Supreme Vice Chancellor Charles S. Davis, of Denver; Supreme Keeper of Records and Seals Fred E. Wheaton, of Minnesota; Supreme Master of Exchequer Thomas D. Mears, of North Carolina; Supreme Master at Arms Herman M. Beck, of Alabama; Past Supreme Chancellors Tracy R. Bangs, of North Dakota, and Thomas J. Carling, of Macon, Ga., the grand lodge officers of Georgia, and the supreme representatives of eight southern states included in what is known as the southeastern division of the Pythian war relief fund, which is being raised for the relief of members of the order who have gone to the war and their families left behind.

Immediately upon convening the lodge will go into questions concerning war activities and relief work.

In order to accommodate those interested in the work of the lodge a public meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Pythian Castle hall in the Forsyth building. Members of the order are invited to attend this session, and the public will also be cordially welcomed. Speeches will be made on that occasion by Mayor Candler, Past Grand Chancellor James W. Austin, Judge Price Gilbert and Supreme Chancellor Brown.

The visitors will be entertained while in the city with several social events and sight-seeing trips over the city.

Excellent Agricultural Prospect Marked Feature of Business Outlook

ITS IMPORTANCE IS NOT MINIMIZED, SAYS DUN.

The excellent agricultural promise, continuing through another week, has become a more noteworthy feature, and its importance is not minimized by the extraordinary circumstances of the period. Yet the stimulus imparted by the prospect of large crops, not only of grain, but also of cotton, is less than it would be under normal conditions, as war-time economies are being more generally practiced and most branches of trade and industry are now dominated by governmental necessities.

The effect of these requirements, which in many instances are of greater magnitude than was anticipated, is to cause sharper restrictions on civilian business, and that regular domestic and foreign transactions, measured by quantities, rather than by values, do not attain the previous maximum, current reports and statistics testify. The fact is, that strictly commercial activities are being limited by the increasing pressure of needs in governmental channels, and the centering of energies on war work, with the prospective shifting of men to the more essential occupations, can scarcely fail to impose further restraint on ordinary operations.

CROP REPORTS WELL-NIGH FLAWLESS, BRADSTREET FINDS.

Crop reports, even after making allowances for the inevitable ragged edges, are well-nigh flawless, and supplies of early vegetables are abundant, though the situation in this regard is somewhat marred by the fact that transportation facilities are not conducive to proper distribution. Present prices for and visible stocks of cereals garnered from last season's crops are such as to vindicate the government's policy of price-fixing.

From all over the country come reports of insufficient housing and increasing rents, but of little building of ordinary structures. While rents burden the cost of living, the trends of commodity prices, especially for hogs, cereals, dairy products, cotton and vegetables, are in a downward direction.

Collections still range from about fair to good; payments in the south are prompt, in the east they are about fair to good, and in the east central regions settlements are relatively slow. Contributions to the second Red Cross drive probably will exceed the desired $100,000,000 mark.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF WHEAT VINDICATED

As the true proportions of last year's wheat crop in this country began to be apparent toward the close of last summer, says Bradstreet's Journal, the most optimistic estimates of supplies available for export to our allies did not exceed 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels, but so well has the matter of conservation of supplies and of substitutes been handled, that now, with returns of ten months' exports of wheat and flour available, we find that the country actually shipped 110,000,000 bushels. This speaks worlds for the self-sacrificing character of the American people in foregoing white wheat bread, and of the firm yet flexible mastery of the situation by the food board.

Perhaps the most interesting example of this control is found in the fact that the farm price of wheat on May 1 was $2.03, as against $2.46 a year ago at the same date, despite the smallest stocks of wheat and flour in dealers hands in the memory of man.

WILSON AND MERCIER FOR FRENCH ACADEMY

Paris, May 26.—President Wilson and Cardinal Mercier, the primate of Belgium, probably will be elected foreign members of the Academy of Moral and Political Science next month, according to The Echo de Paris. The election occurs June 15. The newspaper says it is expected both candidates will accept election.

Sweden recently established its first factory for making textiles from paper.

SPIRITUALISM IS KAISER'S BEST ALLY

This Mystic Movement, Asserts Haynes Before Great Audience, Is a Revival, in Modern Guise, of the Prohibited and Condemned Witchcraft of Old — The Devil's Latest Trick.

Speaking before the largest Sunday night audience in Atlanta last night at the Lyric Theater, Carlyle B. Haynes, the author, minister and lecturer, declared his belief that the Kaiser, in instigating the world war and the atrocities in Belgium and Northern France, was inspired by the spirits of devils which pretend to be the spirits of the dead. In this way he accounted for the Kaiser's hallucination that he was especially favored of God.

In the same way the speaker accounted for the miracles which Spiritualism is working in all lands. The spirits which pretend to be the spirits of the dead in Spiritualistic seances, he said, are in reality demons impersonating the dead.

"Spiritualism," said Mr. Haynes, "while it counts its converts by hundreds of thousands and while it has worked its way into scientific circles, is nothing after all but a revival in a modern guise of the condemned and prohibited sorcery and witchcraft of old."

Mr. Haynes read a large number of passages from the Bible to show that the practice of communication with so-called spirits of the dead was prohibited by the Creator, and was punished among God's ancient people by death. He also quoted passages from the Bible to show that the spirits which mediums claim to deal with were not the spirits of the dead, but demons impersonating the dead. Among the texts he read were the following: Lev. 19:31; Mal. 3:5; Lev. 20:27; Deut. 18:10-12; Ex. 22:18; Gal. 5:19-21; Job 14:20, 21; Eccl. 9:4-6; Rev. 16:14; II. Cor. 11:13-15; I. Tim. 4:1.

In part, Mr. Haynes said:

"That which so far has been the crowning deception of Spiritualism is the so-called materialization of spirits. This does, and is destined to, deceive many who resist the more ordinary manifestations.

"In order to accept the claims of Spiritualism it is necessary to throw away the teachings of the Bible. The theory which lies at the very foundation of this delusion is at war with the plainest statements of Scripture.

"There is no consciousness in death. The Bible declares that 'the dead know not anything,' Eccl. 9:5, 6: that their 'thoughts have perished,' Psa. 146:3, 4; that they have no part 'forever in anything that is done under the sun, Eccl. 9:16; that they have 'no work, no device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom,' Eccl. 9:10; and that they know nothing of the joys and sorrows of those who are living. Job, 14:20, 21.

"Thus the way of modern Spiritualism has been prepared by the teaching of the natural immortality of the soul. If the soul is immortal why should it be thought a thing incredible that it should return and communicate with the living? But man is not immortal God only has immortality. I. Tim. 6:15, 16. Only those who receive the gospel will ever receive immortality. II. Tim. 1:10. And no human being will have immortality conferred upon him until the resurrection from the dead. I. Cor. 15:51-54.

"Therefore, the fundamental doctrine of Spiritualism is proven to be untrue by the Bible. The dead cannot communicate, for they are unconscious, and will remain so until the resurrection from the dead. This is the very purpose of the resurrection, to make alive those who have been sleeping in unconsciousness.

"It is not surprising that Spiritualism has appeared, and is deceiving so many. Students of the Bible have been expecting just such a manifestation in fulfillment of the Bible's prophecies. Paul declared that 'in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils.' I. Tim. 4:1. And he also writes of 'the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders.' II. Thess. 2:8-10. The fulfillment of these prophecies is the appearance of Spiritualism.

"But Spiritualism is not a new thing. It is as old as the human race. It had its origin in the Garden of Eden. The first spirit medium was the serpent in the garden. The fall of man and the ruin of the world was caused by heeding the counsel of a spirit medium.

"And since then it has manifested itself especially in heathen countries. Its adherents claim today that there are ten million believers in Spiritualism. I think they are very modest in their claim. Five hundred million would probably be much nearer the truth. For it must be remembered that the savages of Africa, the barbarians of the East Indies, the Chinese, the Hindus, the Tibetans, and the South Sea Islanders, and practically every nation where idolatry, barbarism and devilism prevail, make the same claim of intercourse with unseen intelligence, whom they claim are the spirits of the dead, as do the Spiritualists of civilized lands. Beyond all question Spiritualism is the most popular religion, if it can be called such, in the world today.

"And its presence in savage lands has been marked by no march of progress, by no advance of civilization, by no development of education, by no illumination of the mental faculties, by no increase of intelligence, but its acceptance has been productive of and co-existent with the most profound ignorance, the most barbarous superstitions, the most unspeakable immoralities, the basest idolatries, and the worst atrocities which the world has ever known.

"When Satan was cast out of heaven, a great multitude of angels was cast out with him to the earth. Rev. 12:7-9. These angels are called demons. Each person has not only a good angel attending him (Matt. 18:10; Acts 12:12-16), but also one of these evil angels. This evil angel, who is under the direction of Satan, knows all that the person has ever done, all that he has ever said, and all his secrets.

"It is this evil angel who has been in constant attendance on the person in this life, which appears in a seance and impersonates that person. That evil spirit can tell at that seance all that the person himself could tell if he were actually there. And it is these evil angels who produce all the phenomena of Spiritualism."

At the close of the service hundreds of people purchased Mr. Haynes' new book entitled "Spiritualism Versus Christianity," which is said to be "unquestionably one of the most convincing and comprehensive studies on the subject of Spiritualism that has been been published."

Mr. Haynes is the author of another book bearing on the subject of the future life, called, "The Other Side of Death," which has had an enormous circulation. His other two books are "The Return of Jesus," and "The Christian Sabbath." A copy of any one of these can be secured for 30 cents by addressing Mr. Haynes at the Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga. Or all four will be mailed for one dollar.

Mr. Haynes left last night after the meeting for Philadelphia, where he will attend the great interdenominational prophetic conference. He will resume his meetings in Cable Hall on Monday night, June 3.

Next Sunday night at the Lyric Mr. Haynes will deliver another address, his subject then being "The Prophecy of the Seven Seals: or God's Forecast of the Christian Era and Its End."

ATLANTANS ARE URGED TO GIVE TO RED CROSS

Last Day of Campaign Has Been Designated as "Robert E. Lee Day."

Monday, the last day in the Red Cross war fund campaign, has been designated as "Robert E. Lee day," and a special call has been extended to all Atlantans by the local committee, asking that they make a special contribution today to the greatest cause before the public today, to show how this city honors and reveres the memory of the south's most noble son.

Atlanta went "over the top" on her quota of $250,000 last Wednesday, before half of the time allotted for the campaign had passed. Since that date she has been busy rolling up oversubscriptions, knowing both that too much cannot be given, and also that there has been a vast increase of the work to be done by the Red Cross since the administration decided to place an unlimited army in France.

It is confidently expected that Atlanta will once again signalize her famous ability to do big things by making today the most remarkable closing day in any city's campaign. Every dollar given means bandages and supplies for a wounded American soldier in France and at the rate the troops are now going over, there will be a larger call for dollars to buy these bandages with than was ever contemplated when the $100,000,000 was first asked of the country.

"I SUFFERED SEVEN YEARS"

Was Eventually Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered for seven long years with a lame back, irregularities and pain. I had one physician after another but they did me no good. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and gave it a trial and in a short time I felt benefited and am now feeling fine, and without weakness or pain. Many of my friends have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and been helped by it."—Mrs. MARGARET NESS, 1846 E. Hazzard St., Philadelphia., Pa.

Women who suffer from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, sideache, headaches or "the blues" should not rest until they have given this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. If complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special suggestions. The result of its long experience is at your service.

TEAMSTER ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING SOLDIER

Americus, Ga., May 26.—(Special.)—C. O. Hilly, a teamster at Souther field, the aviation camp here, was arrested this afternoon on warrants charging assault with intent to murder, carrying concealed weapons and carrying a pistol without licenses, and carried to jail. The alleged assault was committed early this afternoon and grew out of Harry Schleichkorn, a private of the 116th aero squad, riding a Shetland pony belonging to Hilly without permission. The weapon used by Hilly was a Smith & Wesson pistol and one shot was wired, the bullet grazing the left arm of Schleichkorn. Several soldiers witnessed the affair. Hilly came to Americus recently from Macon, while Schleichkorn's home is in New York.

ALEXANDER AND NESPOR SPEAK AT GREEK CLUB

Hooper Alexander and Z. Nespor were principal speakers before members of the Greek Soldiers' club Sunday afternoon at their headquarters at Alabama and Broad streets. Mr. Alexander was greeted by applause a number of times during the course of his address. Aside from general patriotic tenor of his talk, Mr. Alexander urged the Greeks of Atlanta to give better support to the soldiers' club. Mr. Nespor, in his remarks, also joined with Mr. Alexander in asking heartier support for the club.

GERMAN TO BE BURIED IN NATIONAL CEMETERY

Services of Heinrich Knappke Will Be Conducted at Fort McPherson Today.

Heinrich Knappke, the German prisoner at Fort McPherson who crossed the deadline despite the warnings of American soldiers on guard, and as a consequence was shot and killed on Friday afternoon, will be buried today in the National cemetery at Marietta.

No further developments in the case were reported at the fort last night and the prisoners have given no expression to their opinion of the affair, remaining perfectly quiet and normal. The dead man, it appears, crossed the deadline and although, of course, his true purpose is not known, approached the fence apparently in pursuit of a ball with which he had been playing. He continued his advance towards the fence after repeated warnings from the guard and his death came as a direct result of his own ignoring of the rules.

In accordance with international law and military regulations the dead man will be accorded the same funeral as that given to a man of corresponding rank who dies while in the American army. This in the case of Knappke, means the same funeral as that of a private, as he was ranked as a fireman on the Prinz Eitel Freidrich, the German raider which interned at Norfolk, Va., in March, 1915. This will include the sounding of "Taps" by a bugler from among his own comrades and the firing of a single salute over the grave by a file of American troops.

The service will be conducted inside the prison compound at the fort, Rev. Sonderregger, Lutheran pastor with the army Y. M. C. A., officiating. The hour set is 9 o'clock this morning. After the funeral service the body will be taken to Marietta for interment. This cemetery is the only military burying ground which can be used for soldiers who die at the fort.

3,000 Atlanta People Take Part on Sunday In Community Singing

Three thousand people, led by Warren Kimsey, song leader from Camp Gordon, took part in the community singing held at Grant park yesterday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock.

Atlantans are learning how to take part with great enjoyment in mass singing and it was an inspiring thing to stand and listen to the swelling choruses as they floated over the tree tops yesterday afternoon.

This was the first open air singing given. It was held under the auspices on the war camp community service and will be held every Sunday during the summer months. Next Sunday there will be a band concert in addition, the band playing from 3 to 5 and the singing lasting from 5 to 6 o'clock.

YOUNG NEGRESS ADMITS SHE KILLED NEGRO MAN

Javie Powell, a 19-year-old negro girl of 187 Edgewood avenue, according to her admission at police station Sunday night, stabbed and killed a negro she said was Henry Price near Butler street and Edgewood avenue. The negro was stabbed in the heart and died before he reaced Grady hospital, where he was carried. The woman claims Price was attempting to steal her money and she used the knife for this reason. She was arrested by Turner and Mashburn, and is held at the police station on a charge of murder.

KAISER IS DECLARED ARCH ENEMY OF JESUS

Speaking on the subject of "Christ or the Kaiser—Which?" Sunday morning at East Point Presbyterian church, Dr. A. R. Holderby said in part:

"Christ is now on the throne. He alone is the sovereign ruler of all the nations. No king or nation has ever yet gained world dominion and never will. Men have tried to gain world power in the past, but all have failed.

"The kaiser, the arch enemy of Jesus, is doomed to failure and to eternal infamy, because he is fighting against God. The allied nations today are fighting God's battles. Those who fear that the kaiser may win the war are leaving God altogether out of their calculations and are trusting alone to human power."

"No ex-parte statements containing indefinite and unsubstantiated evidence will satisfy men of impartial mind, and the Irish peer will not believe one of these charges until they are proven before the only tribunal which lovers of justice and fair play recognize."

Mr. Devlin came out boldly as an advocate of peace by understanding.

"Don't you think," he said, "that the time has arrived when the weight of the influence of Ireland and Irishmen the world over ought to be thrown into the movement, already strong in all the belligerent countries, in favor of a just, general peace? If the question of peace were submitted by a plebiscite to the rank and file of the armies of the world hostilities would cease within 24 hours.

"Everybody knows that Germany's position is as difficult and uncertain now as it is likely to be two or three years hence and that even if Germany were beaten to the dust it would be just as difficult to negotiate peace. If Germany, as she says, is willing to negotiate now, is it not a crime against civilization to prolong the war a single day, let alone for an indefinite number of years?"

Referring to the powerful voices of Lord Lansdowne and others in favor of peace, Mr. Devlin said:

"If the Irish race takes up the question, it can help it forward as no other race can. If we once get a peace conference together, the question of Ireland might well be submitted to it, since British statesmanship has proved incompetent."
